Chief Plenty Coups

*COLUMBIA RIVER
HIGH SCHOOL
VANCOUVER,
WASH.
98665
VOLUME 17*

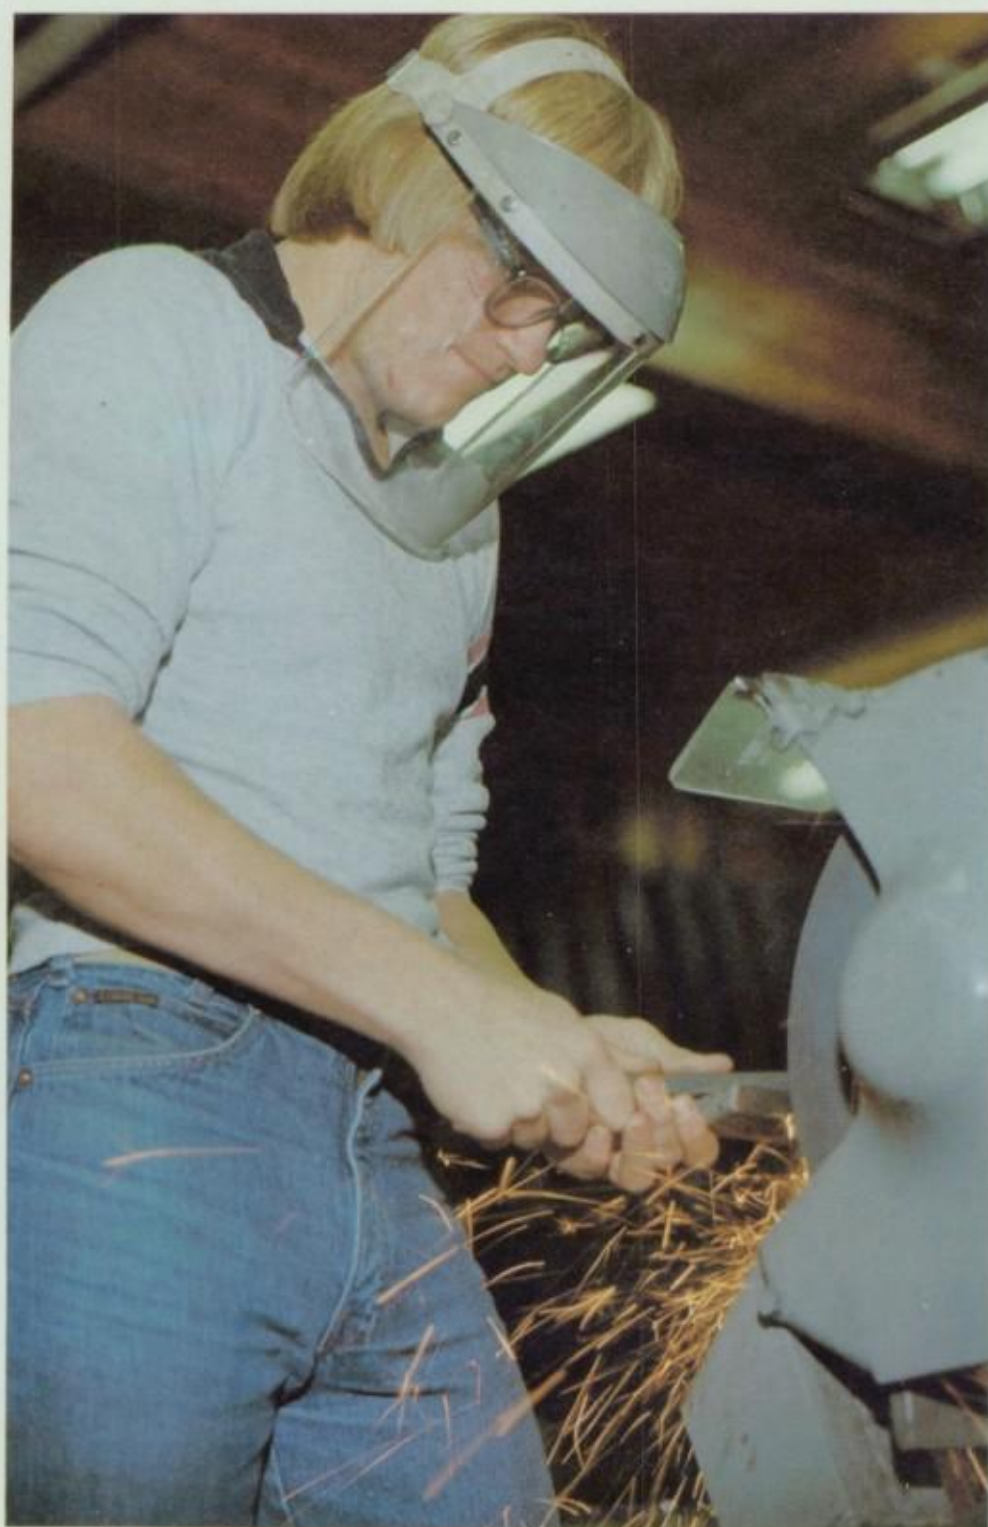

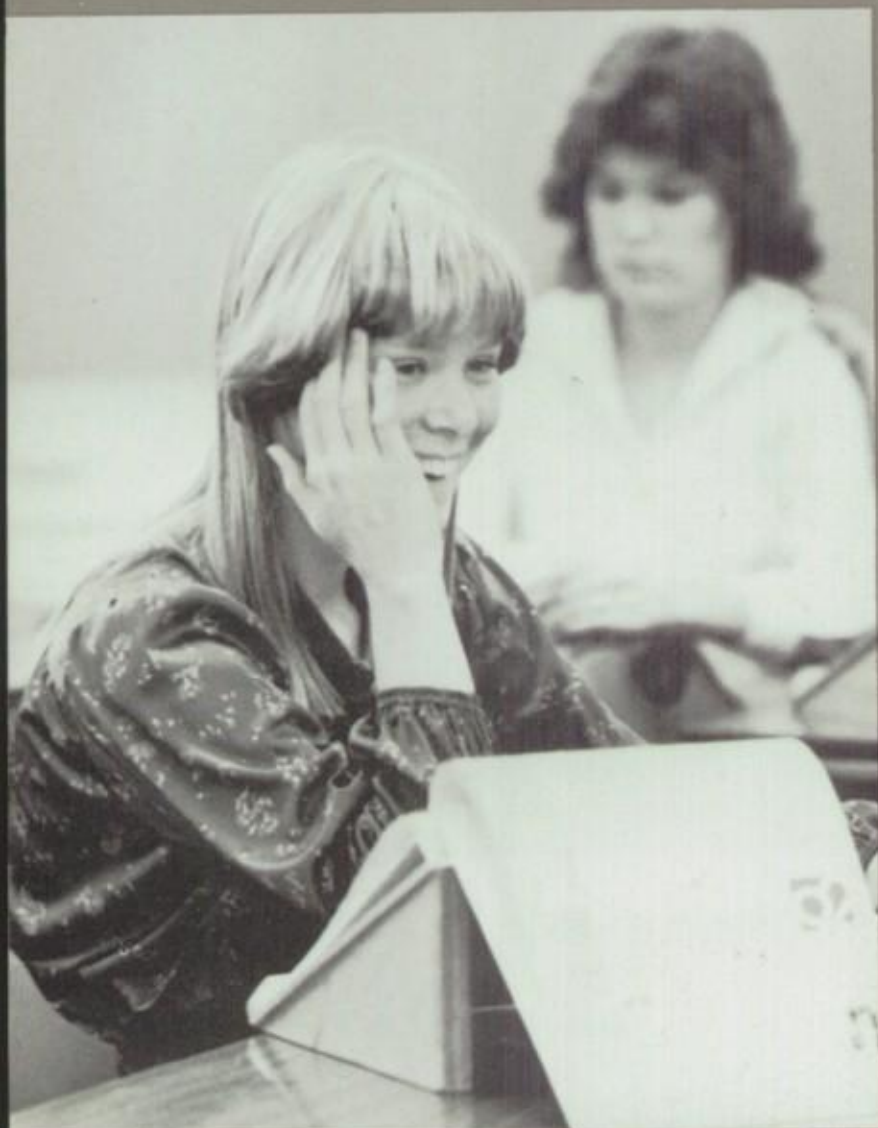

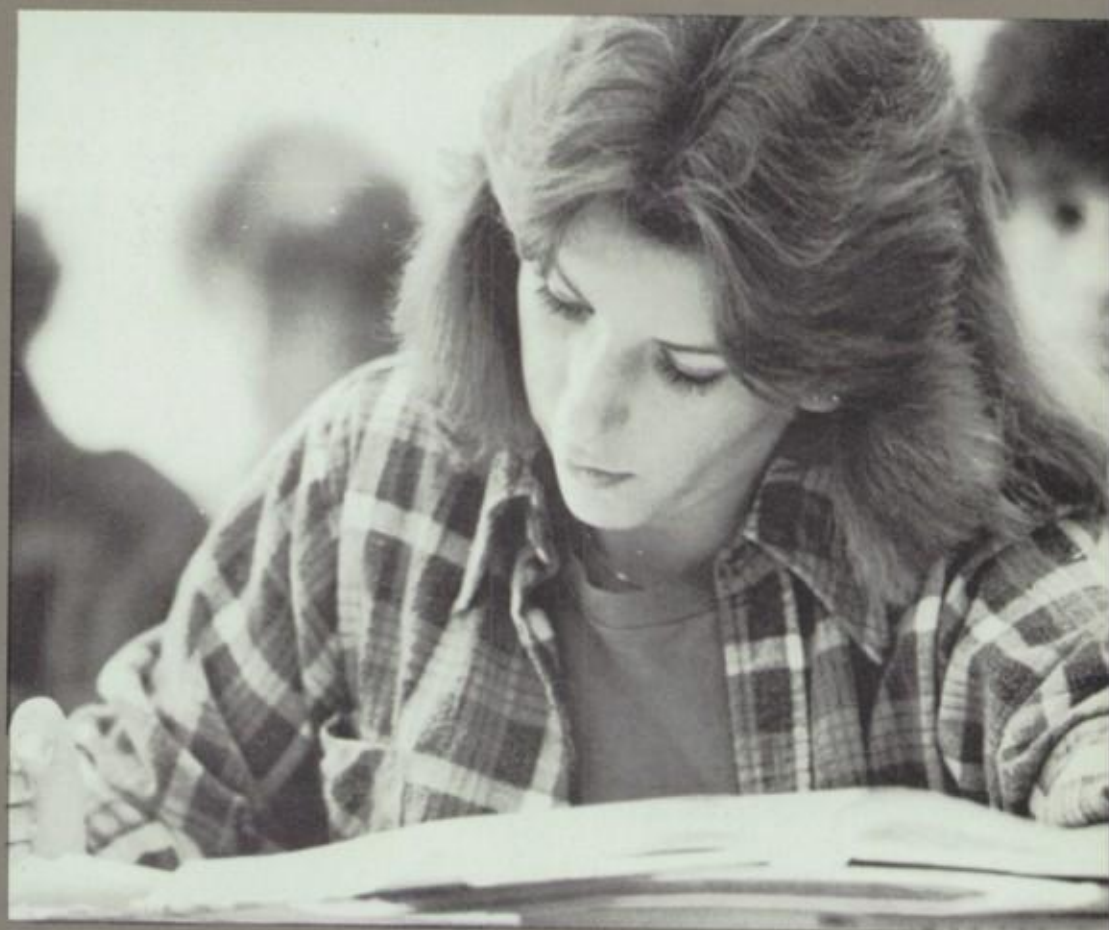

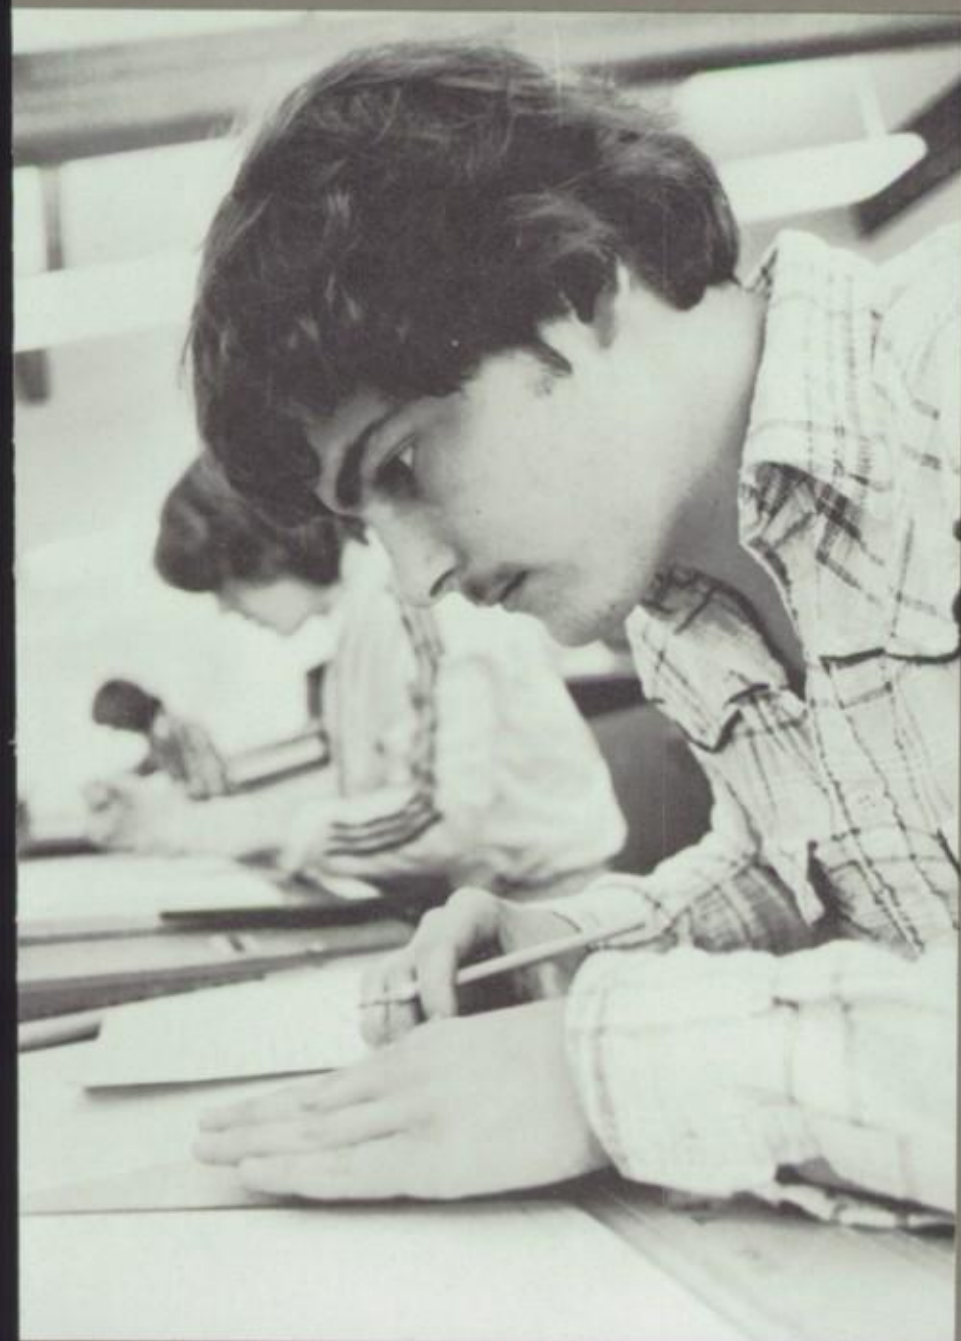

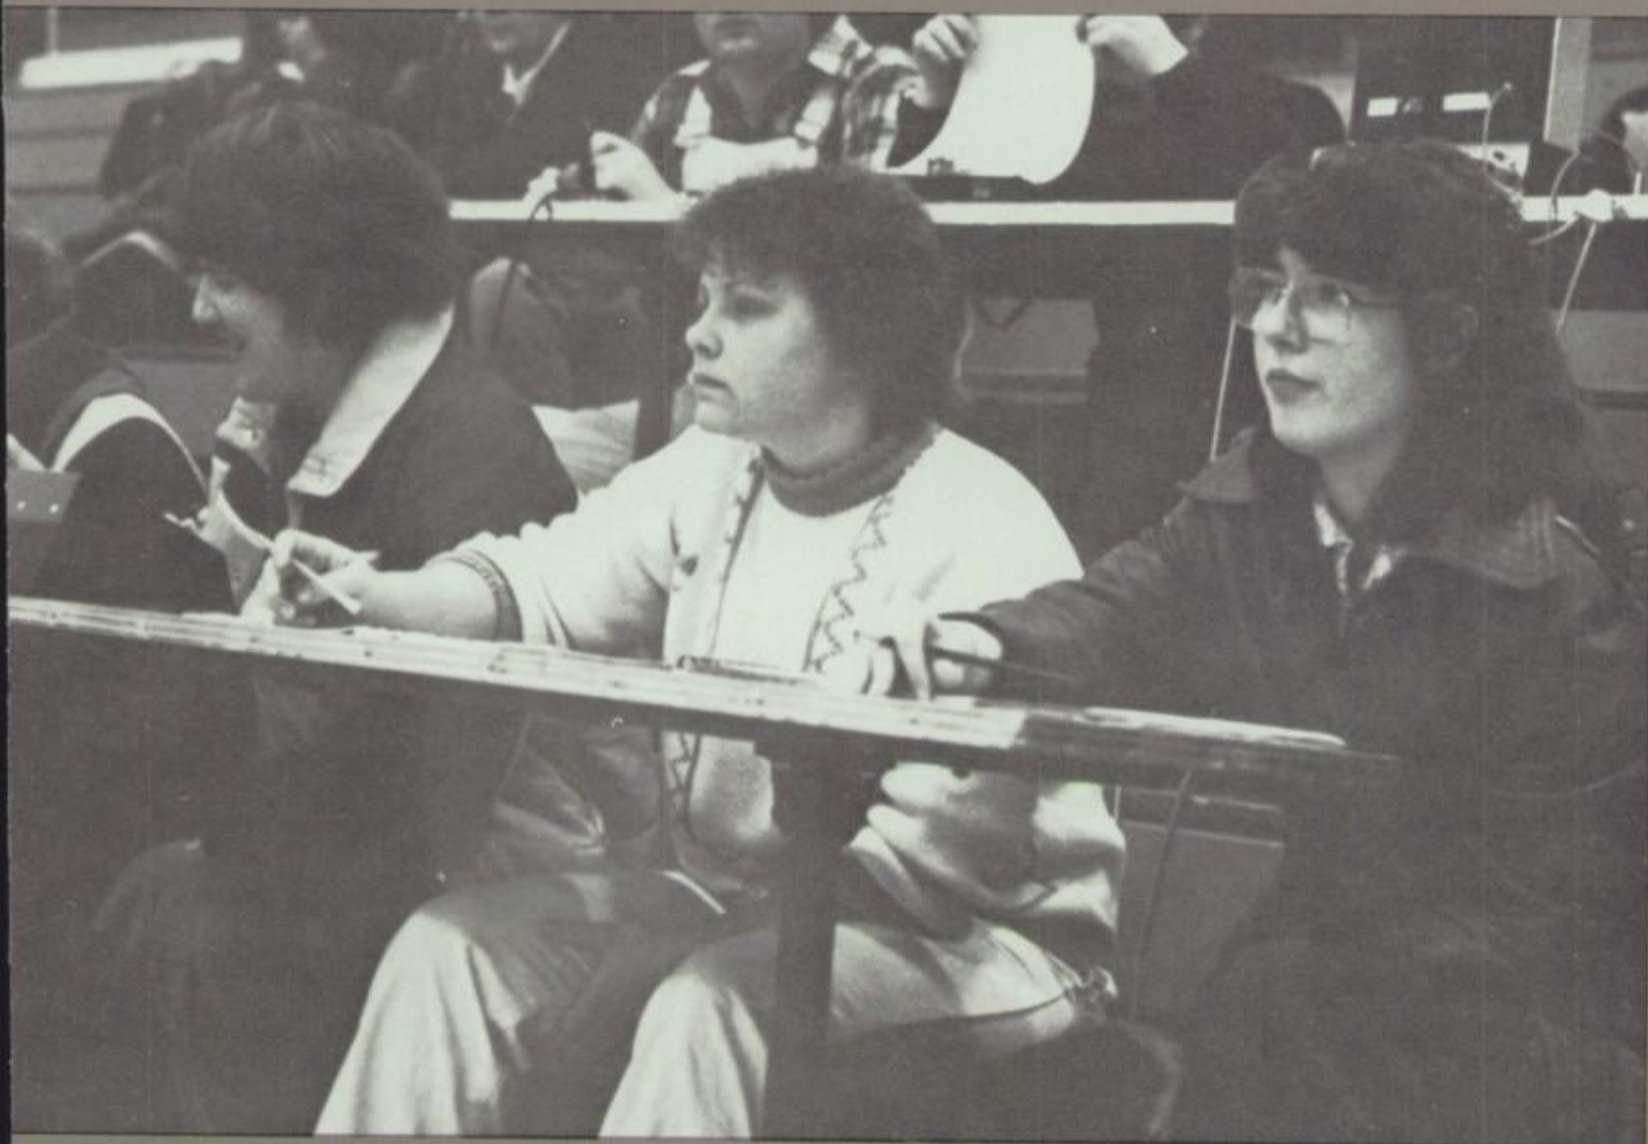

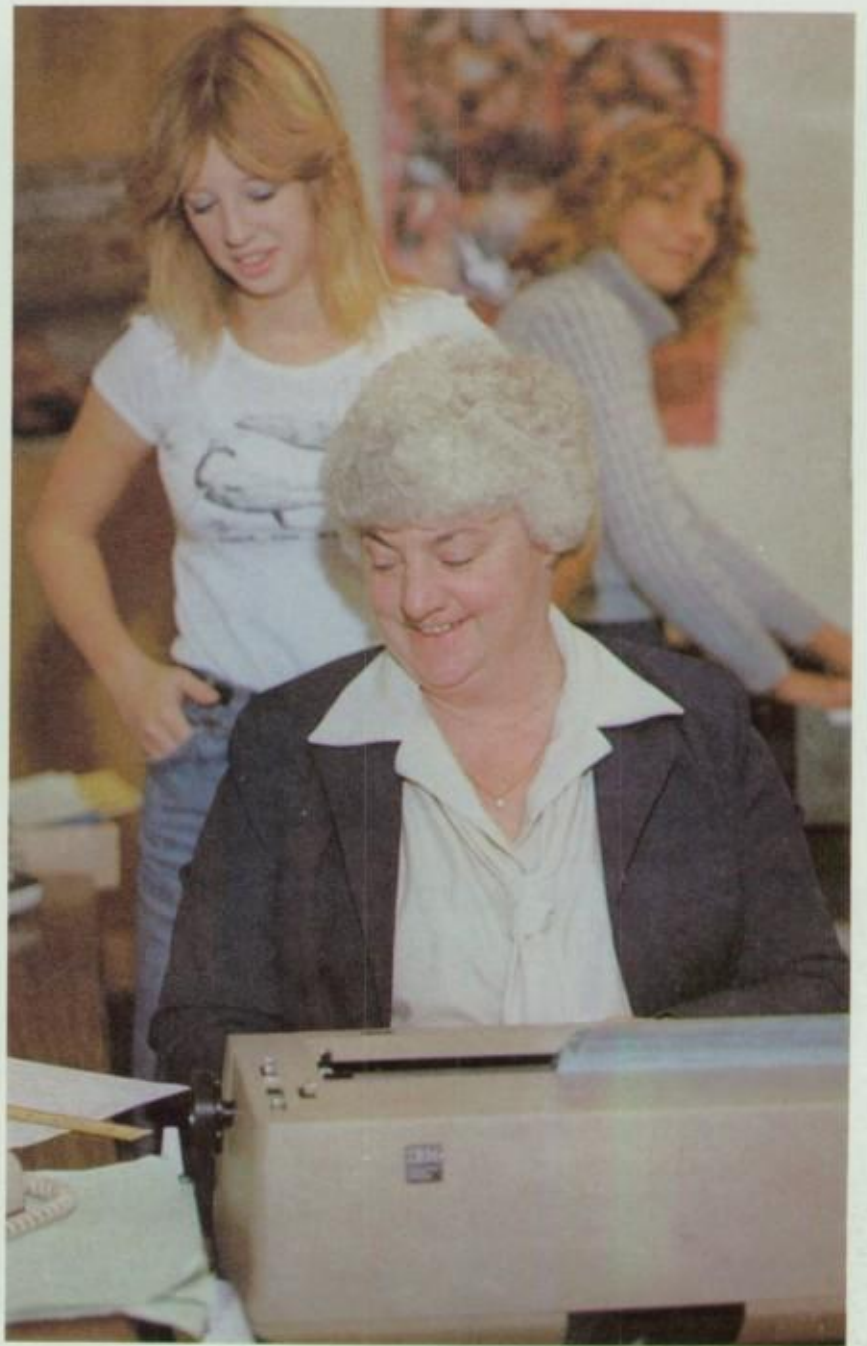

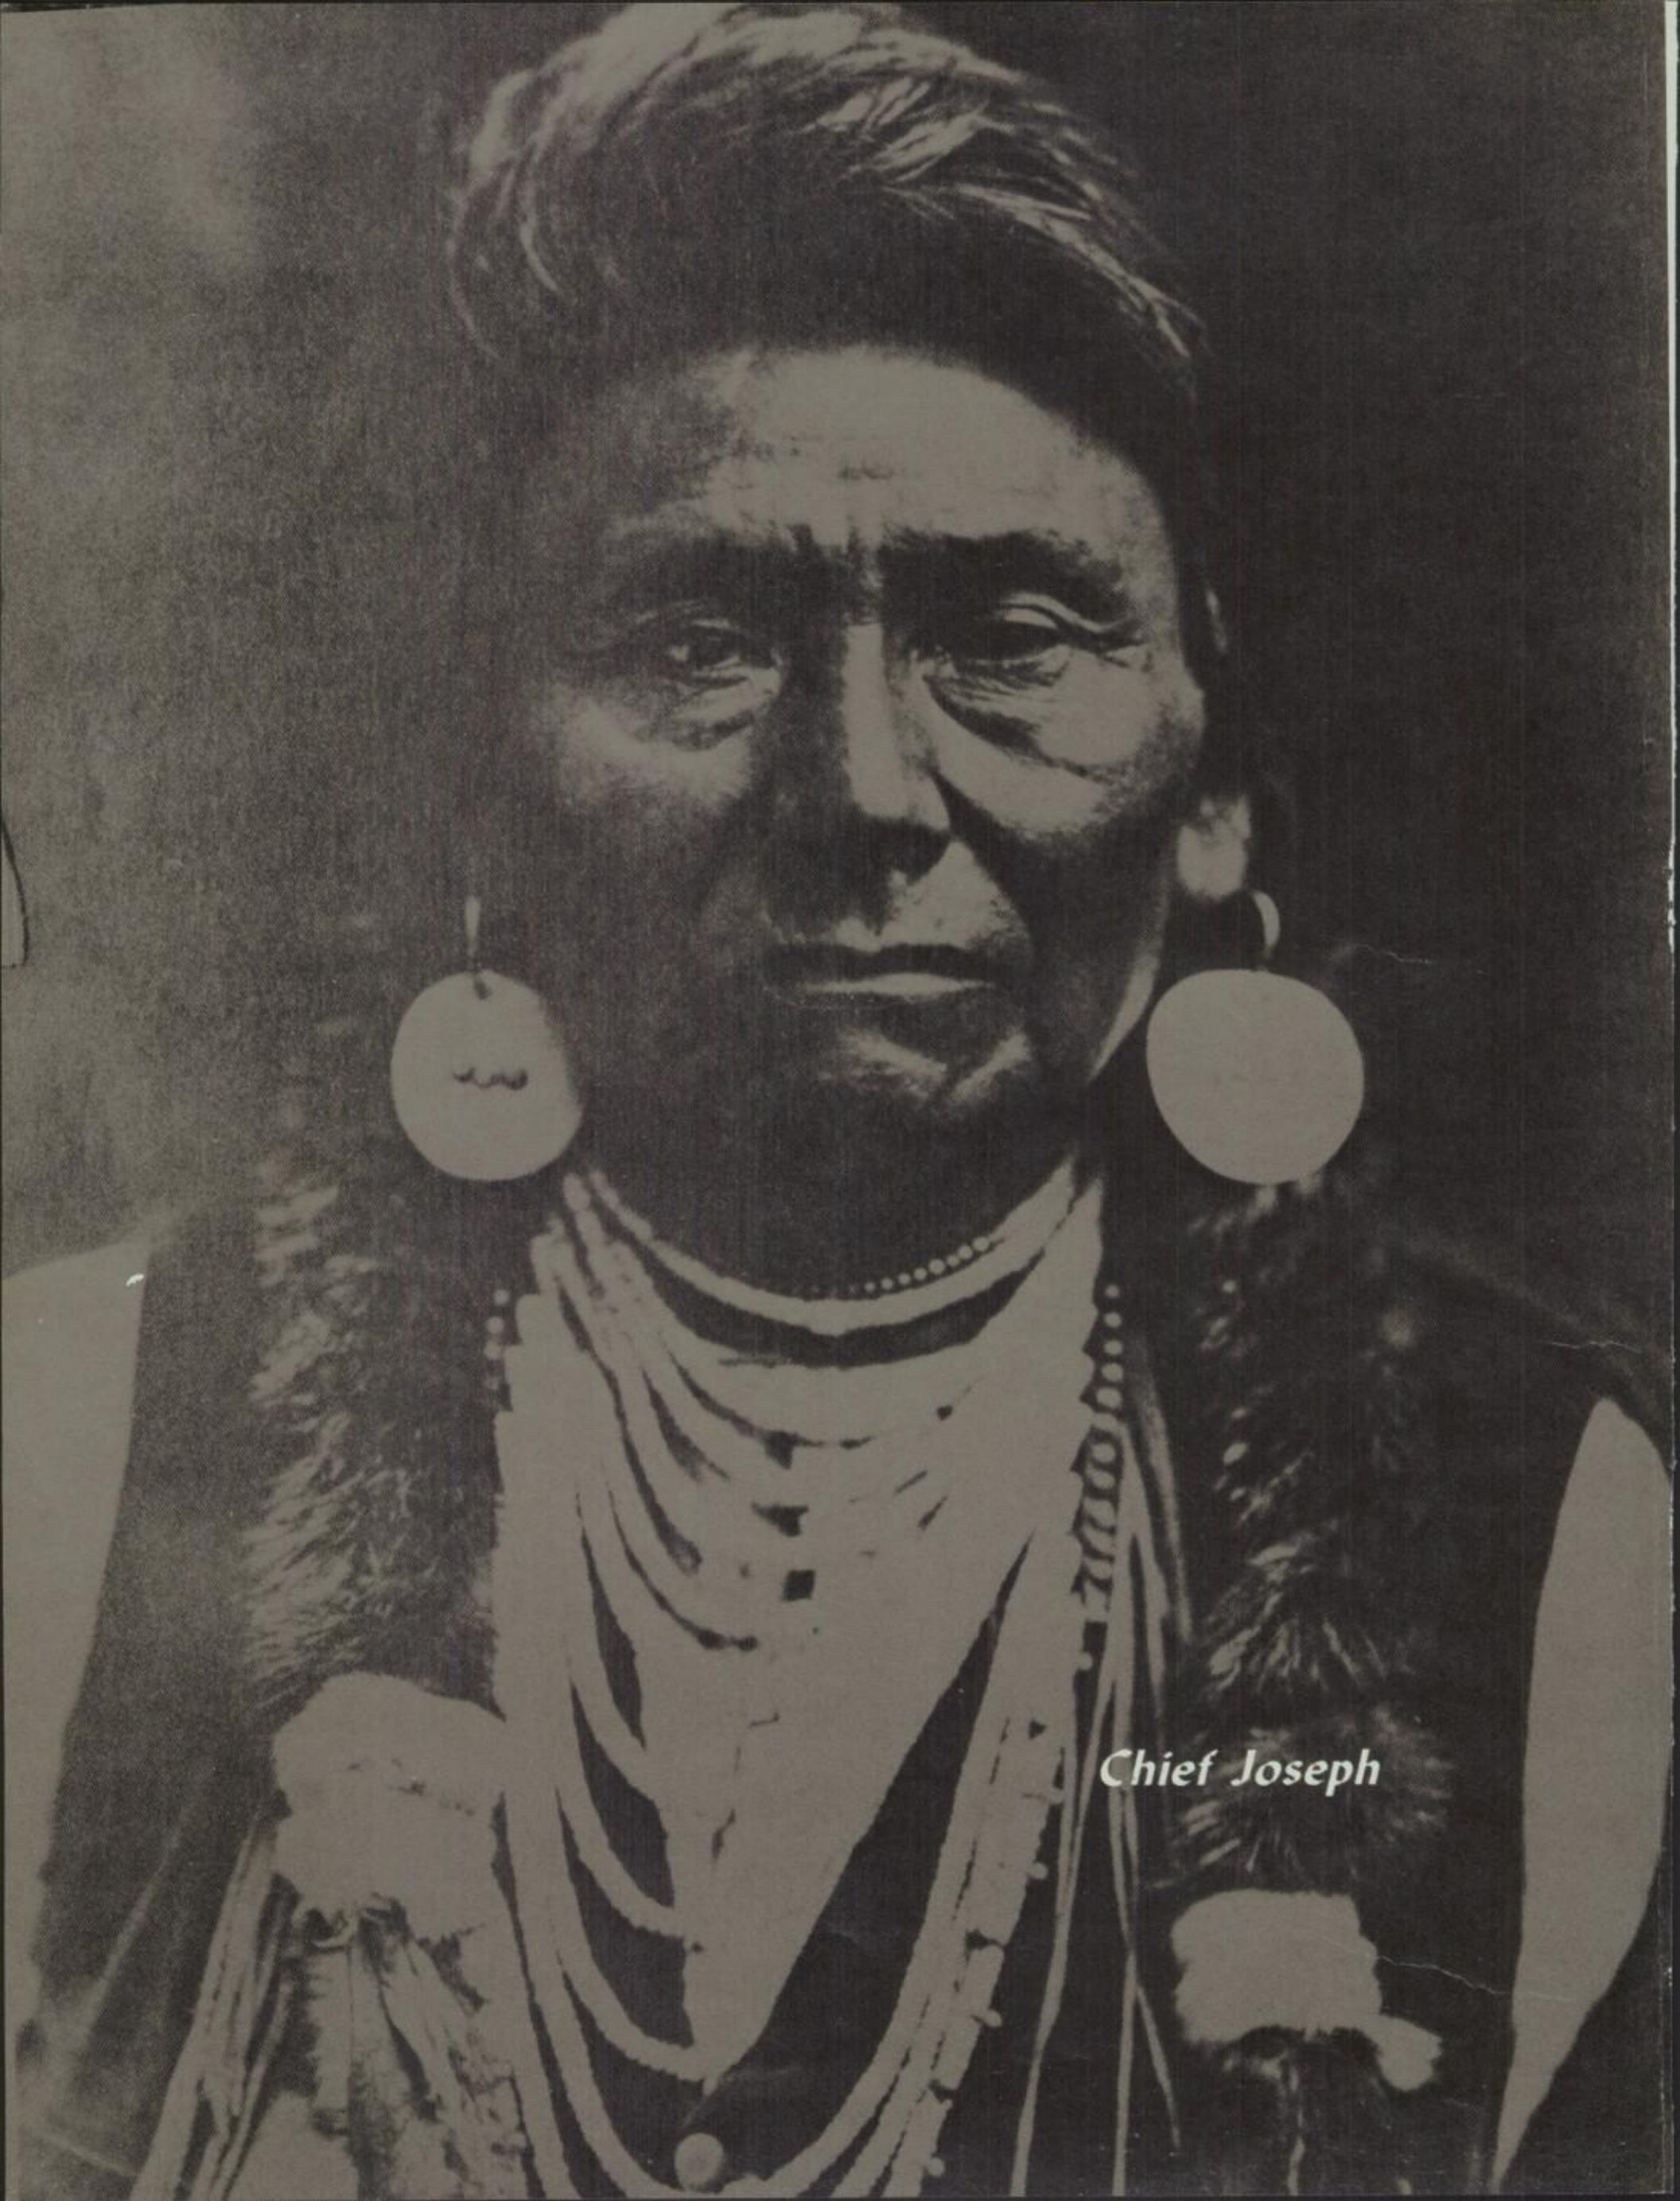

Chief Joseph

Chief Joseph played a big part in the role of the American Indian—just as our rock has been a big part in the history of the famous Chieftain spirit.

When Columbia River was only a drawing on a piece of paper, our rock was just waiting to be discovered. The construction workers were in the process of building the high school when they had to remove a huge boulder. The rock split when it was removed and the smallest piece was set in front of the school as a symbol of strength. Little did the workers know what the poor rock would be put through. In the many years since the rock has been here, it has been buried, painted and fertilized.

Every year our opponents paint the rock different colors, and every year the Chieftain spirit watchers repaint it purple and gold to remind everyone of the strength and spirit for which Columbia River is best known.

Chief He Who Jumps Over Everyone

Another Chieftain emblem, another sign of true Columbia River pride. Like the great Indian tribes and chiefs before us—such as Chief He Who Jumps Over Every One, who roamed this land where our school now stands—we carry on the tradition of displaying our pride through artwork like this emblem that hangs proudly on our gymnasium wall.

Our school spirit may seem weak at assemblies, but it does not mean we have a lack of spirit simply because it cannot be heard. Just look around—in the gym, in the halls, in the office, signs of everlasting Chieftain spirit prevail throughout Columbia River. What spirit your ears cannot hear your eyes can see.

ACTIVITIES

Homecoming

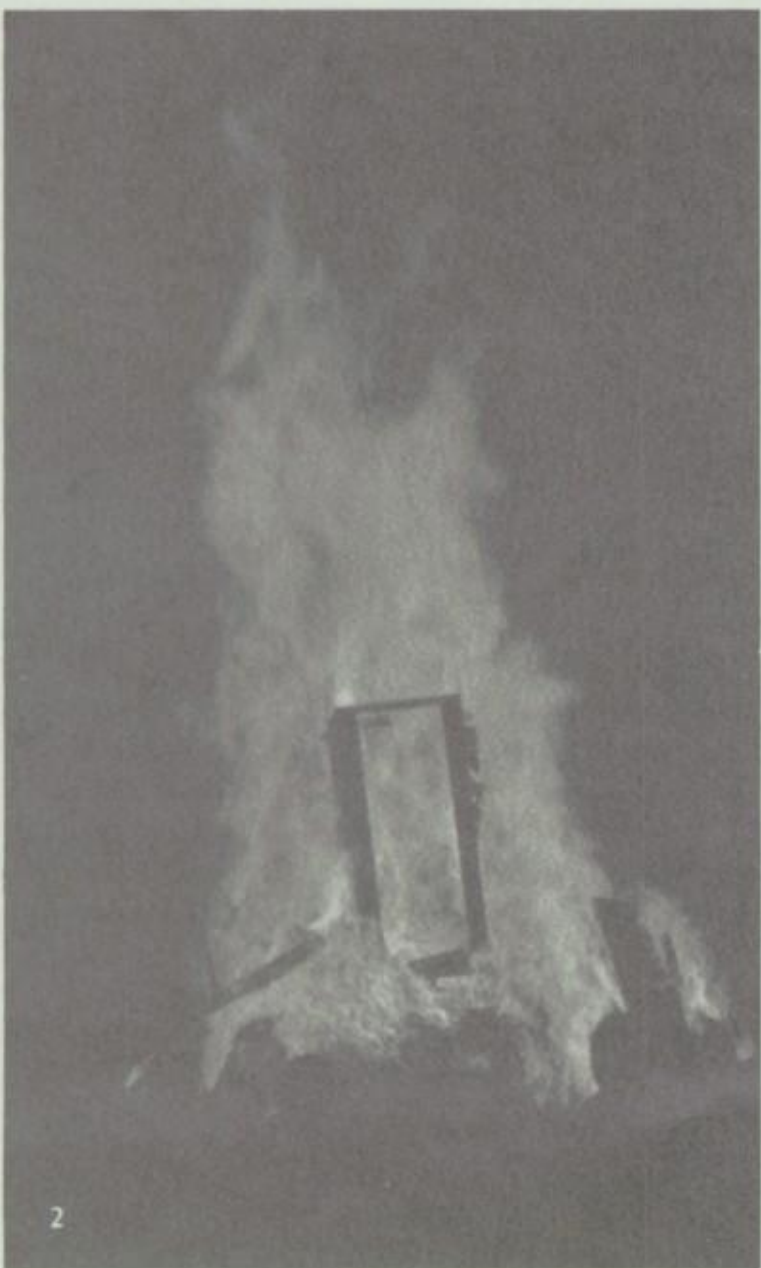

With "The Main Event" as the theme for the Homecoming Dance, a boxing ring was set up in the middle of the floor. Couples danced to the beat of Sailor in the cafeteria and enjoyed refreshments of punch and cookies.

This year's Homecoming Court consisted of (1) Melanie Cobb (2) Patti Cummins (3) Susie Fitzgibbon (4) Susanne Hapala (5) Carla Kendall and (6) Queen Lauri Deckert - and their fathers.

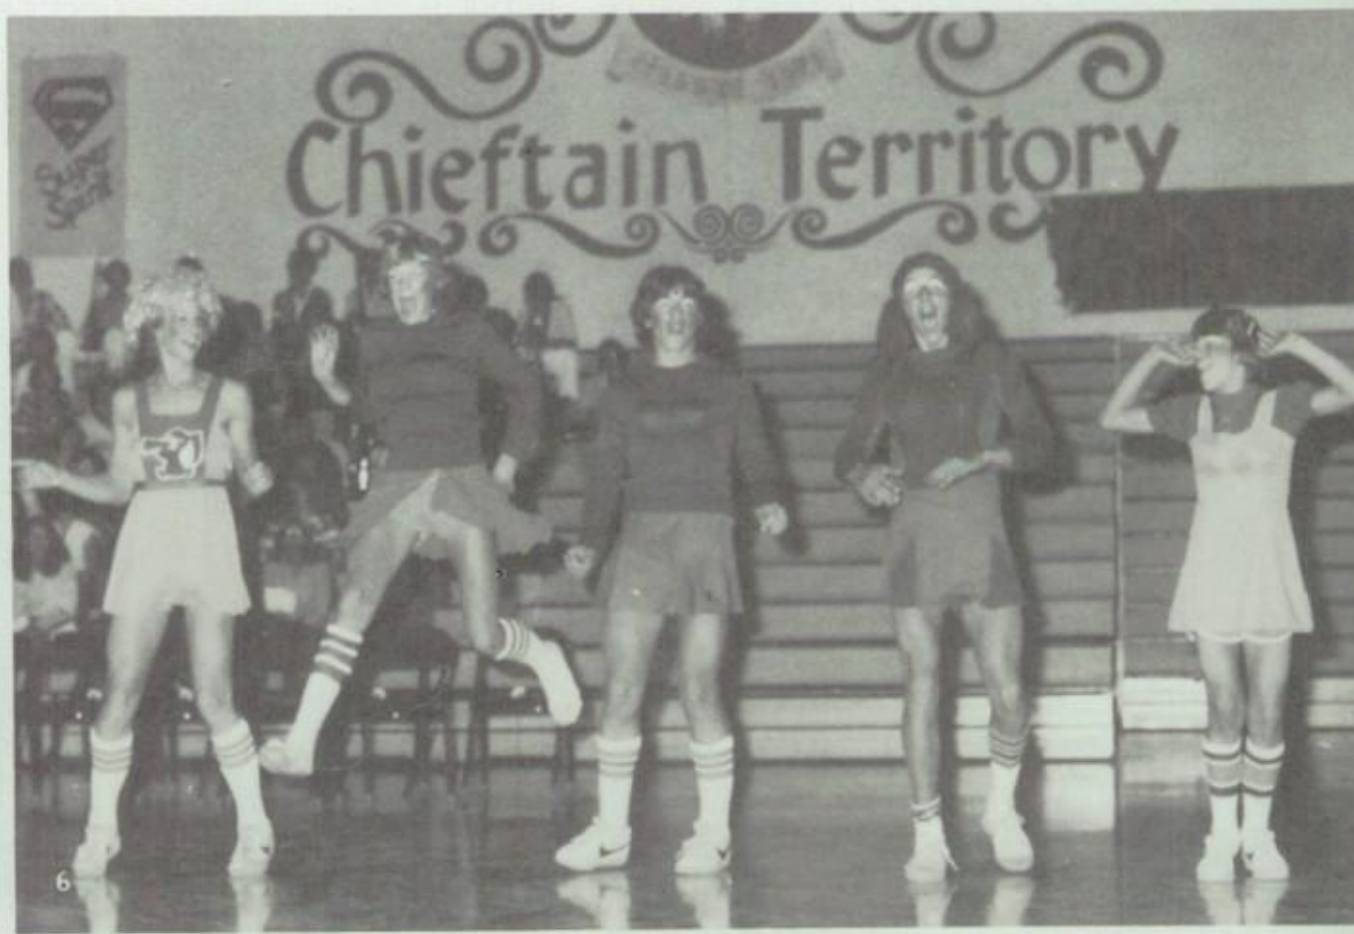

(1) Carla Kendall and Patti Cummins congratulate a happy Laurie Deckert. (2) Could this be a vision of the gateway to the future? (3) Homecoming game starts out with the Pledge of Allegiance. (4) Mike Rick, Keith Neff, John Dunn, Mike Book, John Underhill, and Greg Meyers are ready to race to see who becomes queen. (5) The court and their fathers.

1) Suzanne Hapala has an accident on the floor and Diane Voeller doesn't feel secure without her teddy bear at the Homecoming Assembly. 2) Chris Hansen and Shirley Gasper get all tangled up on how to play the game. 3) The crowd cheers on as the game goes on. 4) Greg Meyer loses his jumprope. 5) There is no stage fright for River's little actors. 6) Are these really Columbia River cheerleaders?

Christmas Dance

The "Twelve Days of Christmas" campaign was conducted by the student council. During this time, students brought in canned foods for the Salvation Army. Competition between classrooms was part of the campaign, to see who could bring the most canned goods. DECA sponsored the "Winter Holiday Ball" on December 15 in the gym, and the music and choir departments held a Christmas concert on December 17.

Junior-Senior Dance

Saturday, May 3, the Junior-Senior Dance was held in Gaiser Hall at Clark College. Of the five nominees, Joe Gorman and Mary Ann Maxwell were crowned King and Queen. The dance was sponsored by the Junior Class.

(1) Carla Sullivan and Kevin Barnum enjoy refreshments at the Junior-Senior Prom. (2) The Prom Court included (from the left) Mark Hess and Carla Sullivan, Brian Frith and Jacki Frimberger, Dan Ewer and Karen Ferguson, Joe Gorman and Mary Ann Maxwell.

(1) Swing Choir performed at the assembly when the final five couples were picked for the Prom Court. (2) Kip Templeton and Zoe Bovard seem to be happy even if they didn't make it to the finals.

Tolo Dance

"A Little Night Magic" was the theme for Columbia River's 1980 Tolo dance. Starting out the week, a Tolo prince was announced each morning over the intercom, with the king being announced on Tolo night. Top hats, tails, and wands were appropriate for the occasion, with the real "magic" happening as Tony Washington was crowned king.

3) A happy embrace by Missy Dynes thrilled Tony almost as much as being crowned king. 4) Mark Hess and Kathi Williams boogied down. 5) Greg Fink gave a big smile for the camera. 6) Mike Phillips enjoyed conversation as well as dancing.

There were about 500 students from 17 different schools that participated in this years fifth annual Model United Nations. Committees this year studied political disarmament and security, economics and finance, humanitarianism and culture, environment, space and seabeds. Columbia River students tallied up the most points for the third consecutive year. That honor brought the MUN the largest trophy back to the school permanently.

Sitting Bull •

Our Chieftain head is a constant symbol of our school spirit and of our pride in our school. However, there are many other symbols throughout our school that represent spirit and pride in various activities.

The hat pictured below may seem like an ordinary baseball cap but it is definitely a sign of Columbia River pride and an illustration of school spirit as well.

Hats, buttons, purple and gold ribbons and screams and shouts for a school yell are all aspects of Columbia River's everlasting spirit and pride, just as the great chiefs before us—such as Sitting Bull—leave their everlasting memory with us today.

FALL

The 1979-80 volleyball season was a very challenging one. They finished with the league title and a second place finish in the district tournament.

Starting off the season was the league jamboree at Hudson's Bay High School. The team successfully won all their matches except the last match against Hudson's Bay. But with an earlier convincing win 21-3 over arch rival Fort Vancouver, they ended up with the most points and the jamboree trophy.

Early in the season they hosted Beaverton High School from Oregon. It was a close match with both teams never letting an easy point go by. Beaverton won the first game 15-11. The second and third games were all CR's. Their work was cut out for them and they met the challenge, taking the next two games 15-11, 15-10. Another home victory over an Oregon school was a tough win against Sunset High School, 15-13, 14-16, 15-13.

This year at the Columbia River Invitational, three teams were invited - St. Mary's and Wilson from Oregon, and Fort Vancouver. The first game against Wilson went by with CR on top. They knew they could take the title with a win over St. Mary's, but the girls could not overcome the Oregon power. The last match was against Fort Vancouver with CR taking the win and a second place in the tourney. Fort Vancouver had been the girls' biggest rival. The four league matches against them came out with CR ahead 4-0. The two most convincing wins were at the jamboree - 21-3 and a 15-6, 15-7 match. The district tournament finals saw the ending clash. The first two games were tied at one game each and the third game started out bad, ending in a tie 14-14 and a second place position for CR. Not quite enough to get to the state tournament.

The sun shone brightly Nov. 3 as the cross country teams pushed on across the rough and seemingly endless course. All the endless hours of practice paid off, though, as the boys pulled their season to a close with the district title for the third consecutive year. For the eleventh straight year, Coach Lee Cave's team brought home the All-City title, keeping up their winning tradition.

Statebound and bringing back a final fifteenth team placing were Jim Dunn, Jim Haydon, Matt Jackson, Greg Meyer, Keith Neff, Mike Pick and Tim Wyche.

The girls team was six members strong and had one of the best seasons in recent years. They finished in second place in the league and at the District meet. Placing in the top ten at District were Sherry Finsand, Patti Kent and Lisa Reudink.

Team awards of Honorary Captains went to Greg Meyer and Mary Ann Maxwell, both two-time letter recipients in cross country. The two showing as Most Improved throughout the season were Jim Dunn and Lisa Reudink. Dean Moothart was voted Most Inspirational by his teammates, while Kathy Karns received the Philchuck award.

(1) Runners took off in the Oct. 4 league meet against Evergreen where Matt Jackson was the first CR runner in with a 17:14 time. (2) The varsity pool consisted of John Underhill, Greg Meyer, Matt Jackson, Mike Pick, John Dunn, Dave Belton, Dean Moothart, Richard Berndt, Tim Wyche, Keith Neff and Jim Haydon.

The football team started their season with a close win over Bremerton 13 to 12. The guys had a seasonal record of 3 wins, 6 losses, and a league record of 1 and 4.

"This year's team had the potential to do well, but found that to do well as a team, it takes total team effort," said head Coach Ed Maxwell. Helping him were Coaches Dale Backlund, Tom Boyle, Dennis Gillingham, Craig Olsen, John O'Rourke and Ralph Riden.

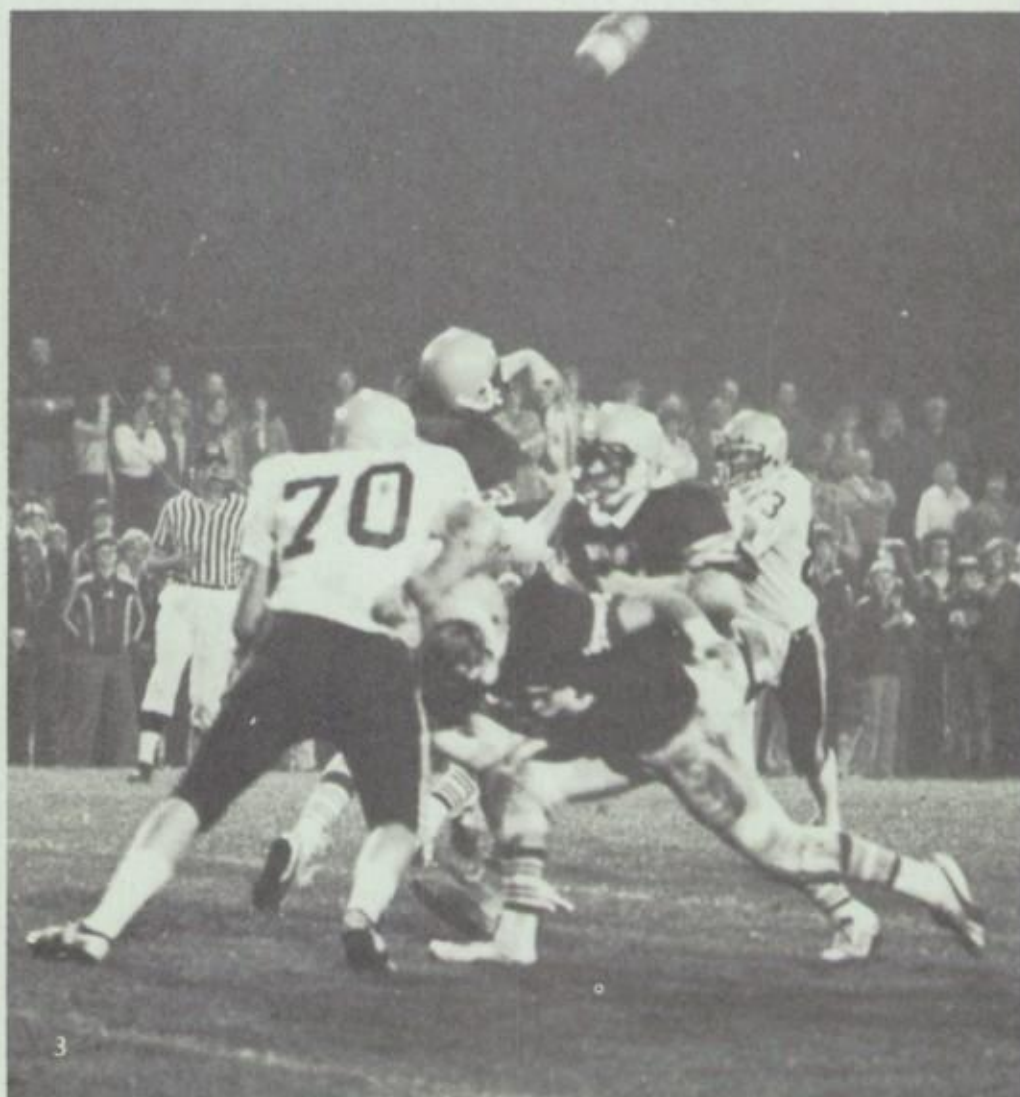

Scot Blodgett, John Schmit and Tony Washington were this year's team captains while Washington was the Most Inspirational Player. Schmit and Washington also made the All-League Team, that was picked by the league's head coaches and The Columbian.

Brian Frith (31) and Scott Blodgett (32) led the Chieftains (right) on the field before a game.

1) This year's coaches were John O'Rourke, Ed Maxwell, Tom Boyle, Craig Olson, Dale Backlund, Dennis Gillingham and Ralph Riden. 2) Ken Sibert watched the play in progress. 3) A Chieftain receiver struggled to catch a pass.

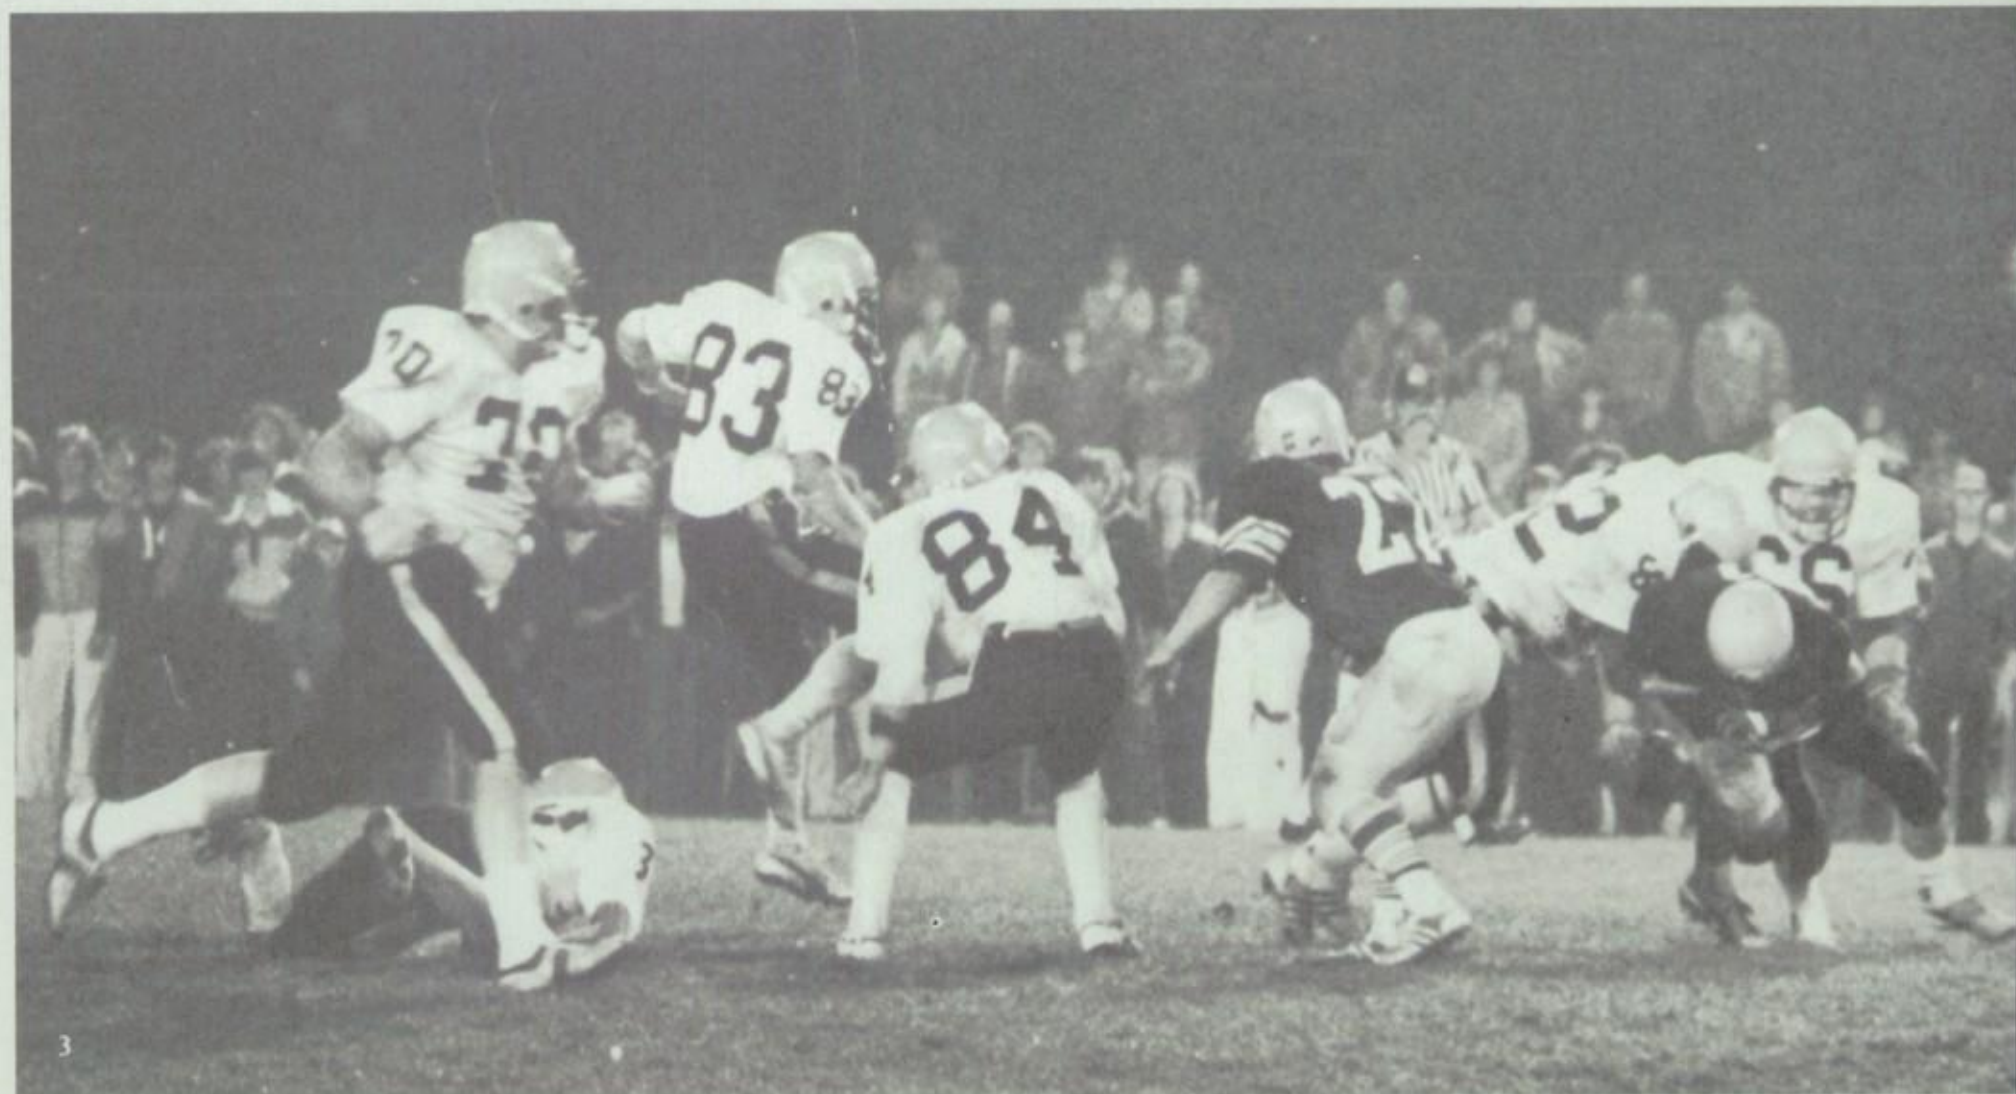

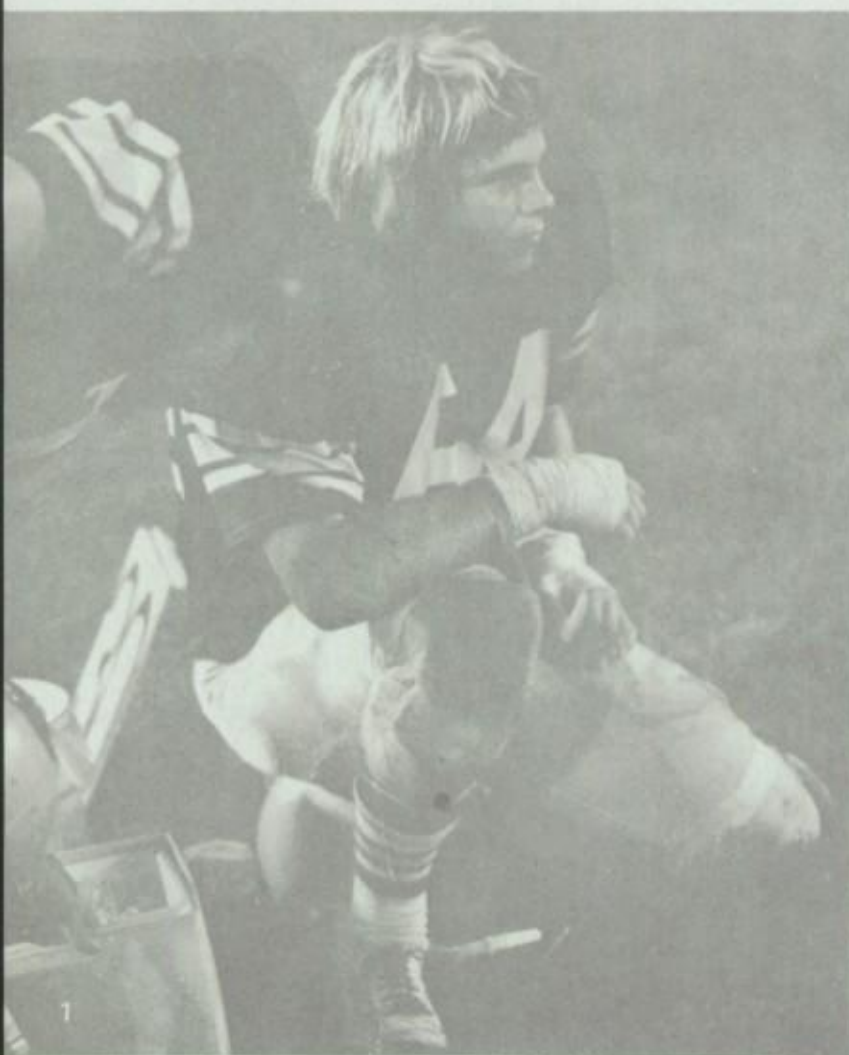

1) This year's team captains were John Schmit and Tony Washington. (Scot Blodgett is not pictured.) 2) Marlo Foss jumped to receive a pass against Evergreen. 3) CR's offense tried running the ball against the Plainsmen.

While slicing through "slow, hard" water in painful monotony, a multi-talented group of chlorine saturated and red-eyed Chieftain swimmers had few things left on their minds but to reach the other side of the pool.

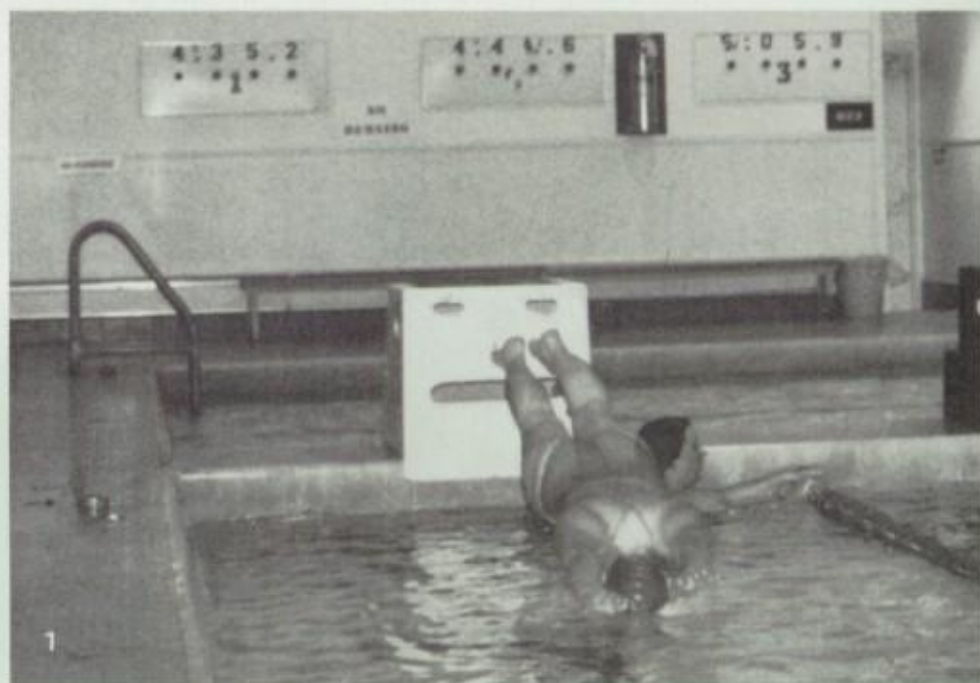

Although the girls lacked some experience, their team spirit and determination gave them a win every meet. Due also, to the superior coaching of Tim Hegedus, the girls left their opponents eating their bubbles. They started their season by drowning R. A. Long 120-40 and finished equally as high with a 126-42 win over Hudson's Bay. Among their wins was a SWW championship taken from Fort Vancouver's domination the previous two years.

Every swimmer received her letter, along with five special awards presented to Team Captain and Most Inspirational, Miriam Knapp; Most Improved, Kim Batterman; and Most Dedicated, to Gretchen DeLong and Karen Fisher. The girls' swimming season ended at the award banquet with many tears and fond memories of a winning season.

(1) "The girls put forth the team effort that made a winning team." "There were no single outstanding swimmers," commented coach Tim Hegedus. (2) Shirley Gasper warms up before a meet with a 100 backstroke.

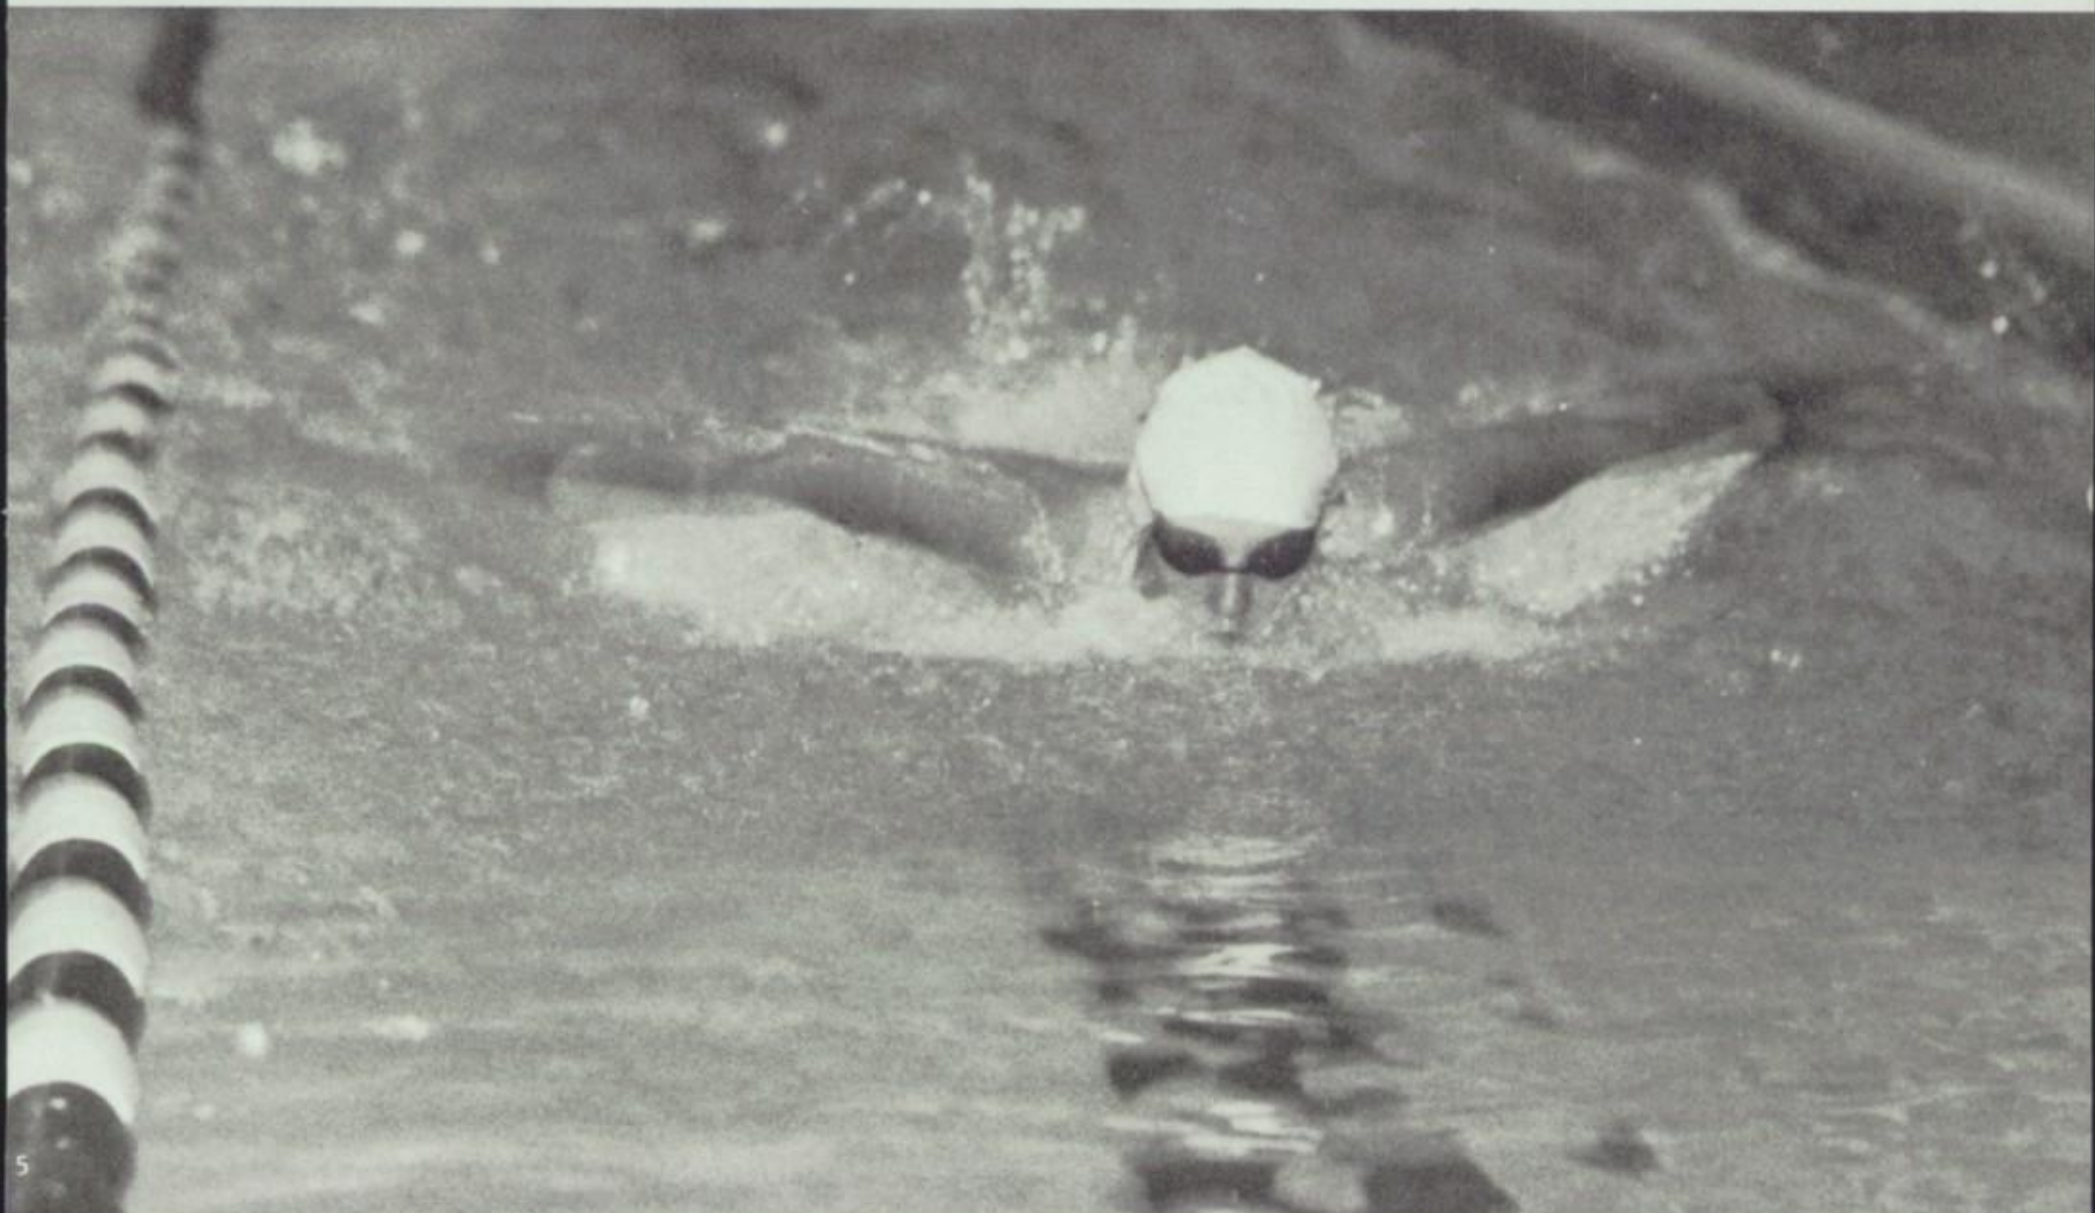

(1) Senior Lauri Lehman practices her starts to prepare for the next meet. (2) Coach Tim Hegedus presents the first place trophy to Karen Ferguson. Behind them are Kim Battermann, Tracy Peterson, Kerry Justik, Jill Hanson, Denise Morgan, Karen Fisher and Lauri Lehman. (3) Jackie Hegedus was the swimmers' most dedicated fan. She attended every meet and added a special warmth around the pool.

The girls swim team consisted of Sandy Book, Lauri Lehman, Linda Cochran, Tracy Peterson, Coach Tim Hegedus, Kim Battermann, Susie Faust, Miriam Knapp, Shirley Gasper, Barbie Burrows, Gretchen DeLong, Denise Morgan, Jill Hanson, Toni Donisthorpe, Karen Fisher, Manager Karla Hall. Not pictured were Jody Frame and Katie Wallace.

(1) The 200-medley relay team, which had a record-breaking season, were top, Miriam Knapp; middle, Shirley Gasper, Susie Faust; and bottom, Sandy Book. (2) Senior Miriam Knapp was Team Captain and Most Inspirational. (3) Sophomore Kim Battermann received the Most Improved Award. (4) Karen Fisher and Gretchen DeLong shared the Most Dedicated Award. (5) Junior Shirley Gasper made the 100-butterfly look easy.

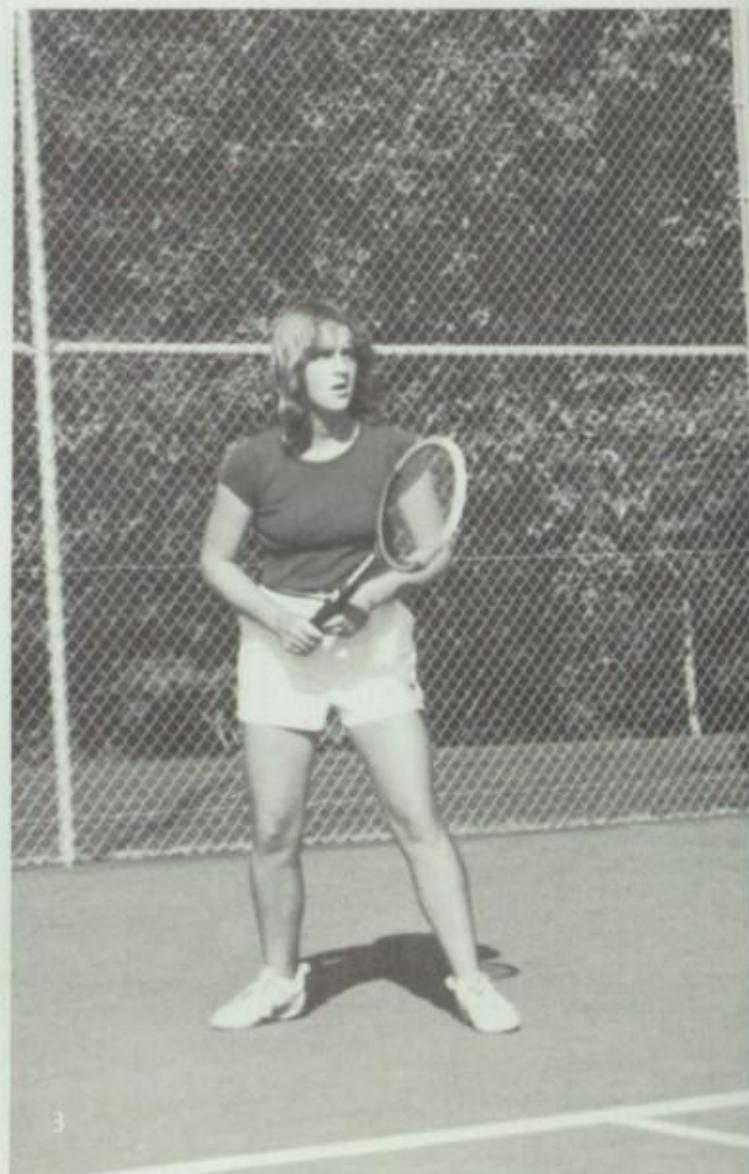

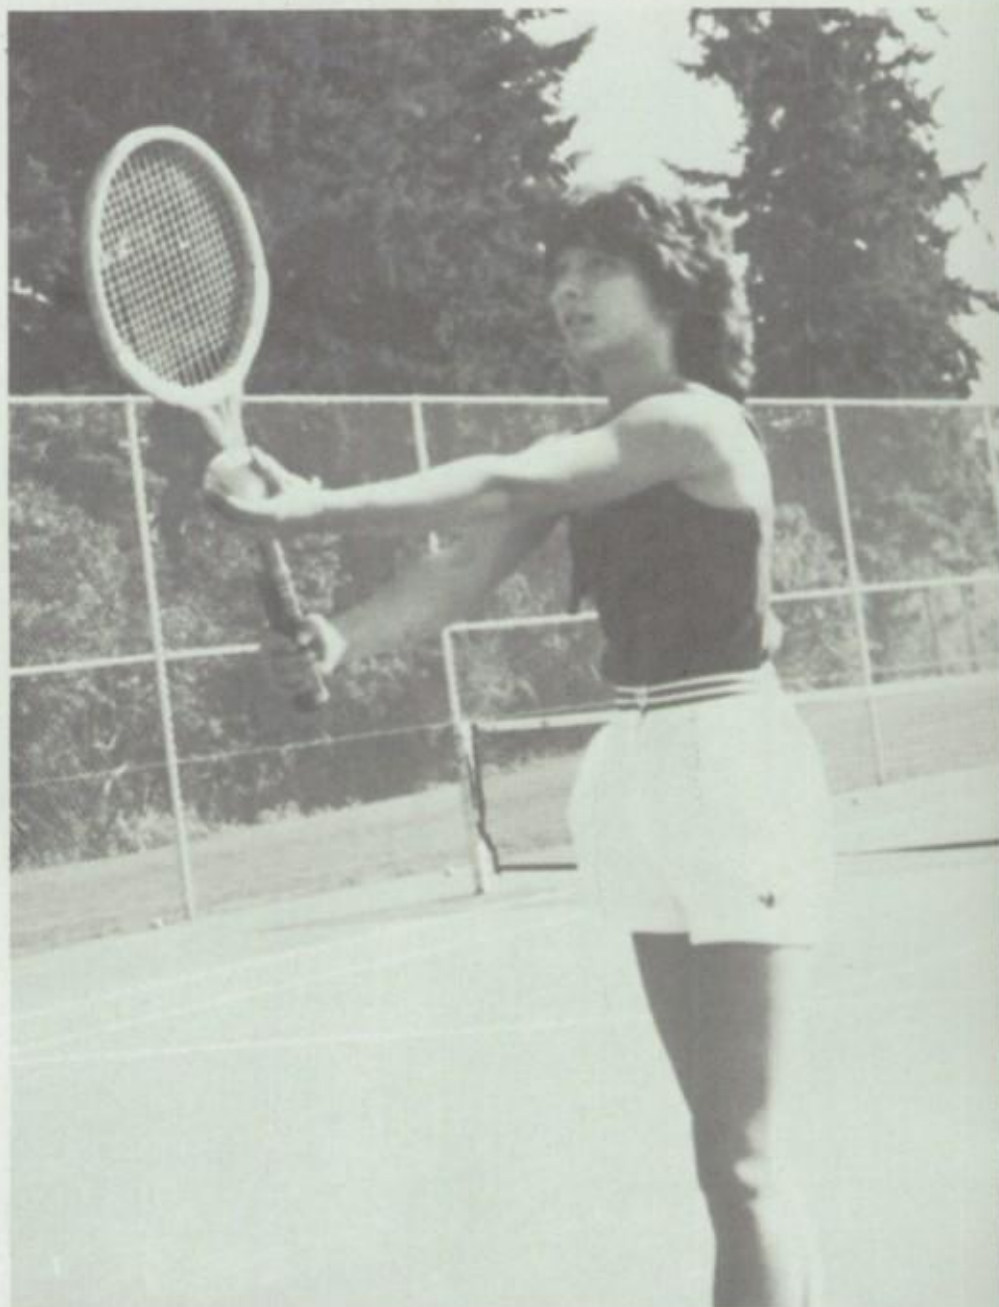

S. Hapala - P. Cummins take first in league

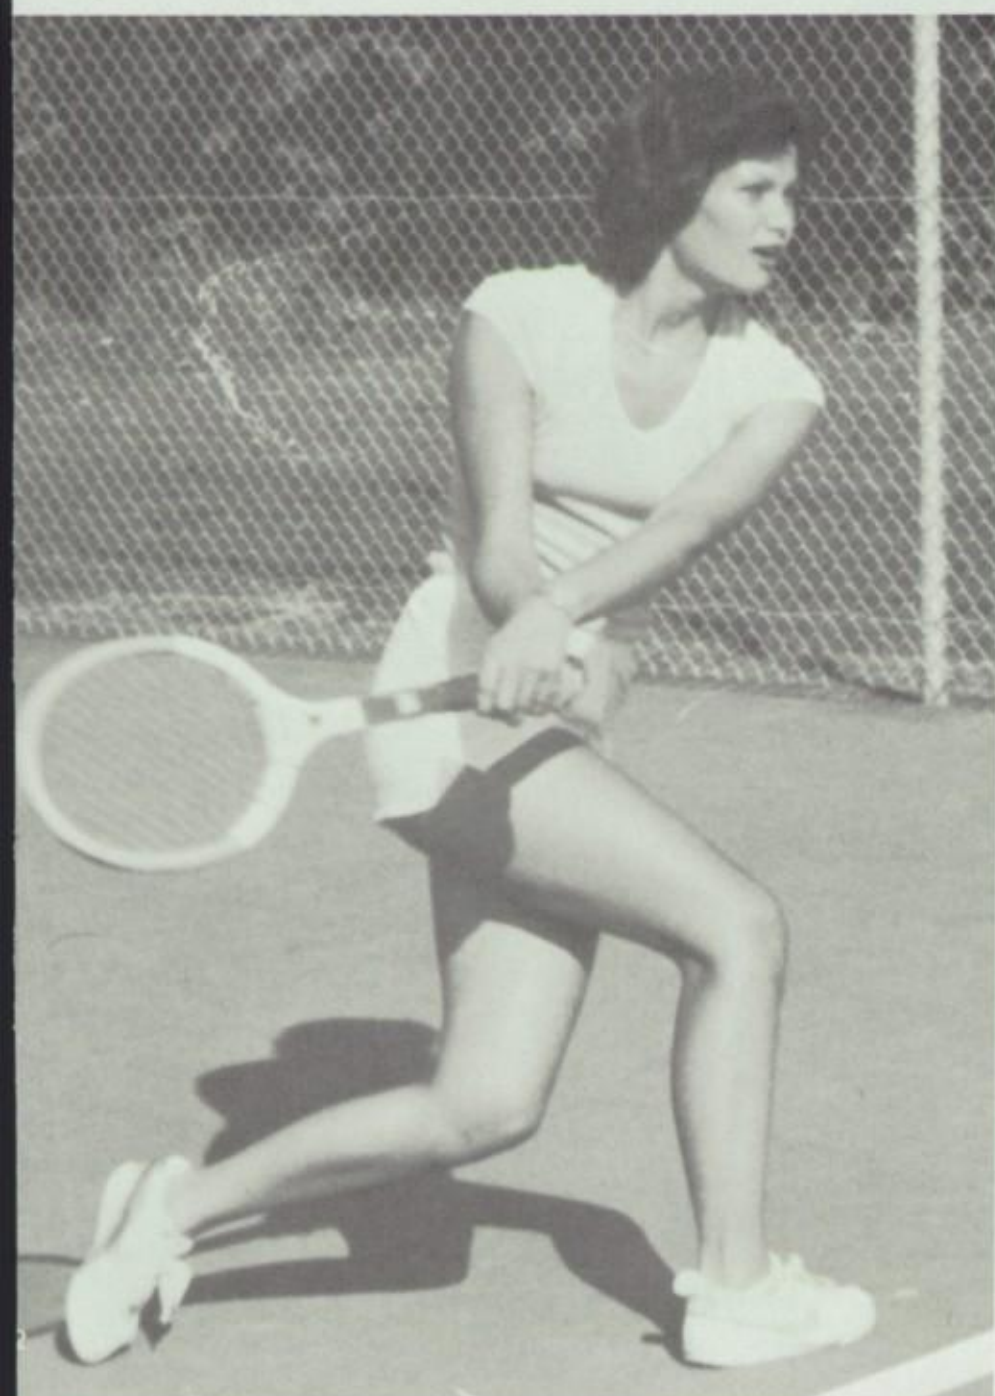

The girl netters handled themselves skillfully this year under the continued coaching of May Regan. Suzanne Hapala and Patti Cummins placed first in league and second in the district finals, and the team placed second in league standings.

Although many of the girls have been with the team for one or two years, this year saw a lot of newcomers to the tennis team. The season was full of its share of triumph and bad luck. Coach Mary Regan felt the girls worked well together and had good enthusiasm.

At the end of the season, the girls voted Arlene Vollmer as Most Improved and Ann Price as Most Inspirational.

(1) Concentrating on the ball, Becki Crumpaker, who played first in singles, prepared to serve to her opponent. (2) The varsity Girls Tennis Team included (kneeling) Ann Price, Carla Sullivan, Becky Crumpaker, (standing) Suzanne Hapala, Patti Cummins, Lisa Chapin and Lisa Neinstadt. (3) Determining her opponent's next move, Ann Price, who played third singles, awaited the ball.

(1) The JV Girls Tennis Team consisted of (kneeling) Marita Seppanen, Cara Smallwood, Kerry Cochran, Kathy Williams; (standing) Kim Lewis, Lisa Briggs, Darnell Watson, Arlene Volmer, Lori Charbonneau, Theresa Weil, Julie Carpenter, Tina Paggett, Nancy Matsunaga, Mrs. Mary Regan (coach), and Leslie Werner. (2) Carla Sullivan used a powerful forehand swing to overcome her opponent. (3) Patti Cummins and Suzanne Hapala took a short break from practice to show their off-court personality as well.

WINTER

Meeting tough competition early in the season, the girls basketballers faced a frustrating one-point loss to Battle Ground in a non-league game.

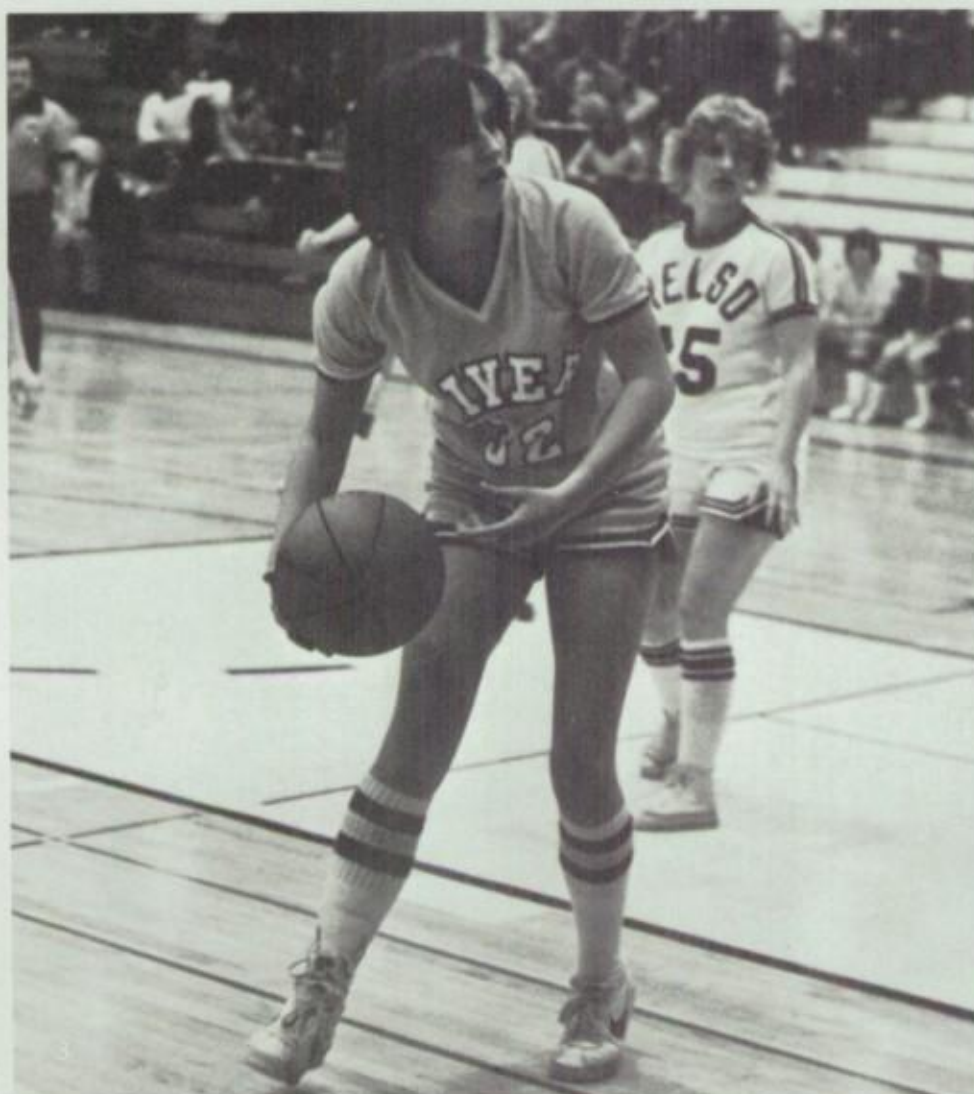

Despite their four-win, eight-loss record; which placed them third in the Southwest Washington league, the girls had some exceptional players on their team. Chosen for the Columbian's 1980 high school basketball all-stars were juniors Sheryl Gold and Laura Flugge. Sheryl also received the most rebounds award at their banquet.

Other awards went to Vicki Fredrickson for having the most assists, to Robin Martin as most improved, to Martha Marriot as most co-operative and to Linda Miller as the one having the most hustle. Vicki Fredrickson, Renee Jozwiak and Martha Marriot were chosen as co-captains.

1.) Laura Flugge concentrates on the game while her opponent moves in. 2.) Vicki Fredrickson jumps for a shot.

3.) The varsity girls basketball team consisted of Robin Martin, Keir Adams, Martha Marriott, Linda Sturdyvin, Sheryl Gold, Renee Jozwiak, Linda Miller, Vicki Fredrickson, Laura Flugge, and manager Becky Henry and coach Joe Moses.

1.) Keri Adams, Vicki Fredrickson, and Coach Moses share a tense moment on the bench. 2.) Keri Adams makes it past her opponents to make a basket. 3.) Linda Sturdyvin prepares to pass the ball. 4.) Laura Flugge listens intently as coach Moses explains the next play.

(1) Linda Sturdyvin dribbles down court. (2) Renee Jozwiak tries to pass the ball to her team mate. (3) Stacy Gecho attempts to outrun her guard. (4) Vicky Fredrickson makes use of an empty court.

Coach Gene Dettorre had a taste of success for his first year as head basketball coach. The Chiefs posted a record of 9 wins and 3 losses, with all three defeats suffered at the hands of Fort Vancouver.

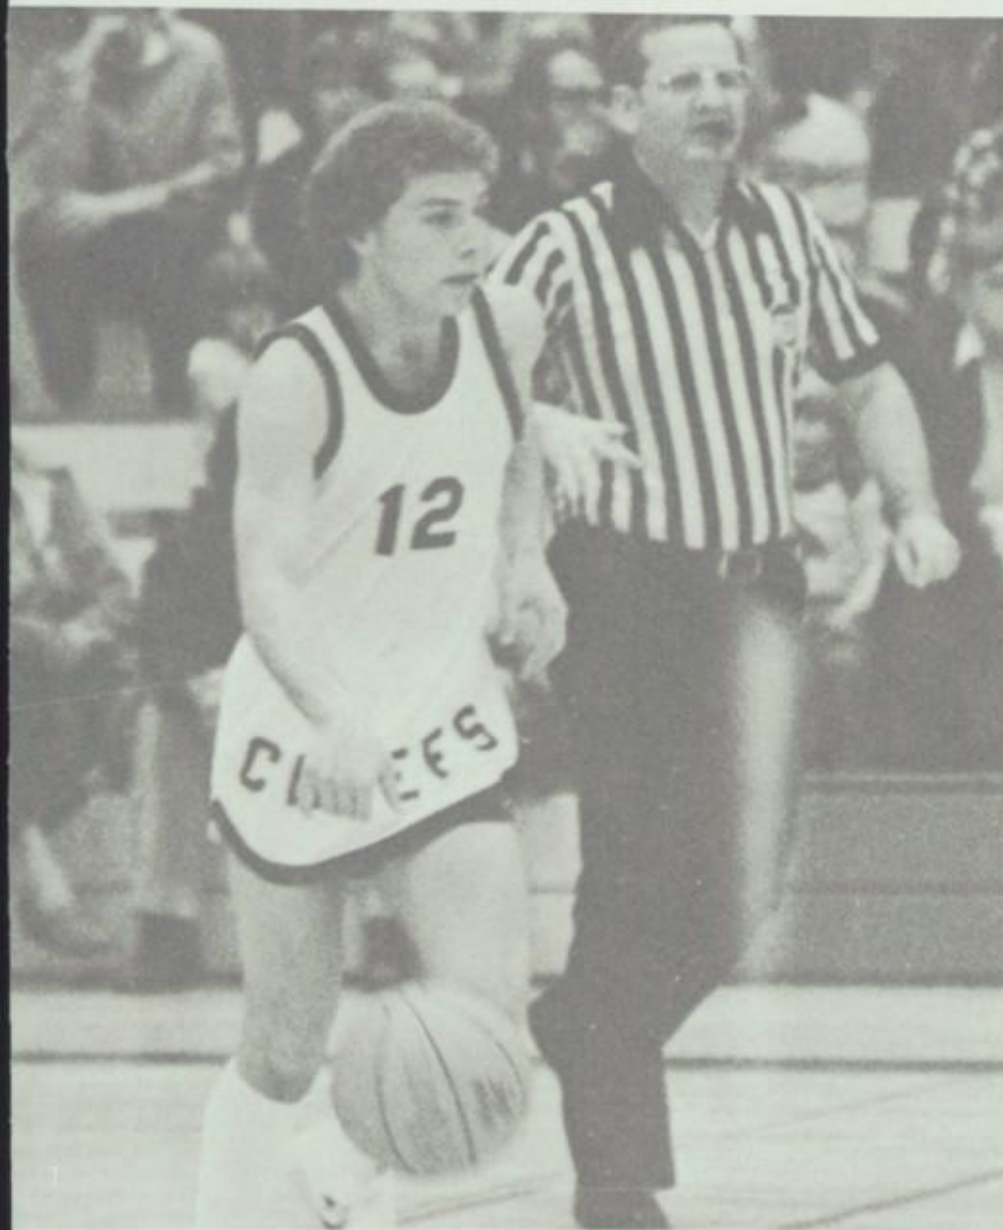

Winning is nothing new to this group of players. They had an outstanding year in 1978-79 as B-Bombers, and lost only two games last season while playing JV. Thus giving them a two-year record of 23 victories and only 5 losses.

Greg Horner practiced many of his leadership qualities during the season, serving as honorary team captain. The highest percentage of free throws were accomplished by senior Kevin Squier.

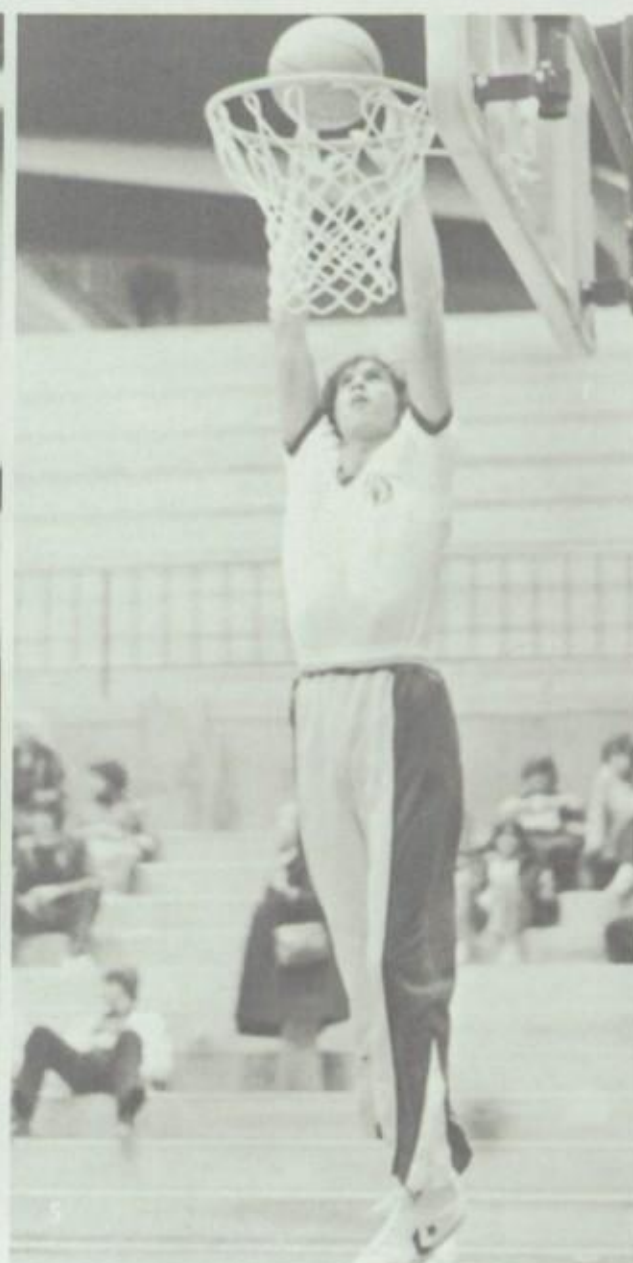

Joe Phillips, the teams leading rebounder, was awarded by his teammates the Most Inspirational award. Phillips figures to be a big factor in Chieftain basketball again next season.

(1) Coach Gene Dettorre received a birthday cake at half time of the Kelso game, and a large victory by the end of the game. (2) Varsity team members Scott Pociano, Greg Horner, John Walker, Troy Ness, Joe Phillips, Derek Johansen, Jon Schmit, Kevin Sparks, Kevin Squier, Greg Fothergill, Marlo Foss and Tony Washington.

(1) Scott Pociano brings the ball up the court under the watchful eyes of the referee. (2) Coach Gene Dettorre outlines the strategy for the team during a time out. (3) Warming up before the game, John Walker, shows up his tip in. (4) Greg Horner follows through on his jump shot for another two points. (5) Troy Ness goes for the two-handed dunk in the warm ups at Fort Vancouver.

(1) Greg Horner shows his dribbling technique to a downed Kelso player. (2) In his first season with the Chiefs, Kevin Sparks shows his ability to jump. (3) Coach Gene Dettorre is given encouragement before the second half by Dettorre's Dollies. A fan club made up of the player's mothers. (4) Kevin Squier gets ready to put up a shot over two Kelso defenders.

The boys JV and Sophomore basketball teams showed strength and consistency throughout the season, both attaining successful records. The sophomore team had a winning record of 20 wins and 0 losses, becoming district champs. Under JV coach Jack Clark and sophomore coach Dale Backlund, both teams illustrated quality basketball playing.

In the Washington State Class AAA Wrestling Tournament at the University of Washington, Senior Scott Ramsey wrestled his way to the state title, claiming the crown at 108 pounds.

Chieftain grapplers competed in a variety of distant tournaments throughout the 1979-80 season, including the Kennewick Invitational and Puget Sound trip to Central Kitsap High School. Shawn Sealy finished second at the district meet to advance to regionals in Puyallup and so did teammate Bob Hebblethwaite, who finished second at the Kelso district tournament but declined to wrestle at regionals due to an injury.

(1) Joe Mitchum attempts to pin his opponent. (2) Mike Lehman is the winner in this match. (3) Senior Bob Hebblethwaite. (4) Senior Shawn Sealy.

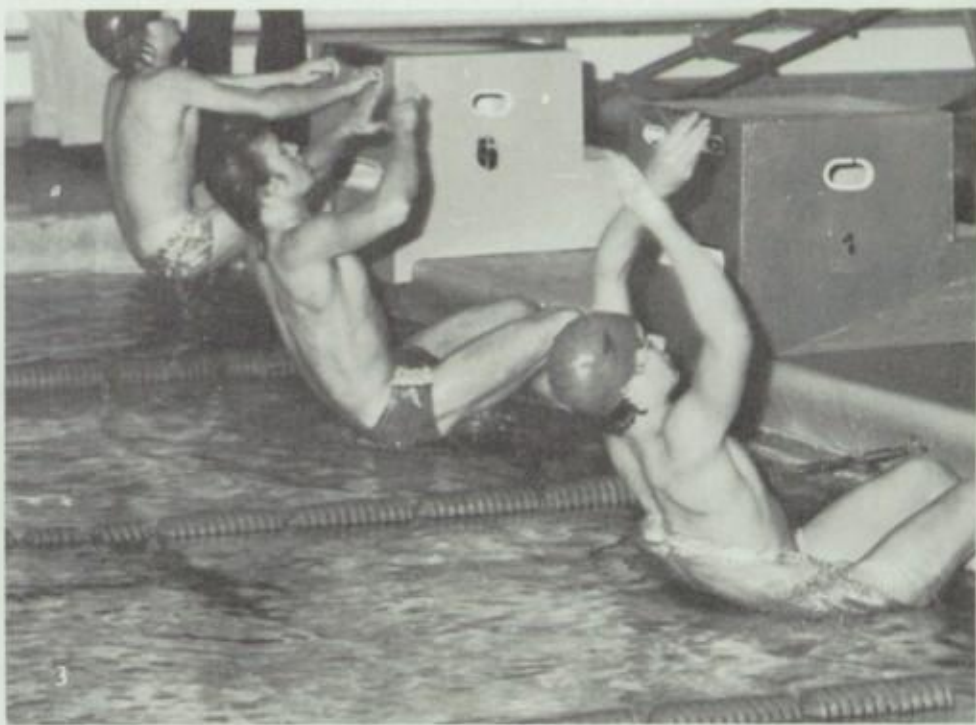

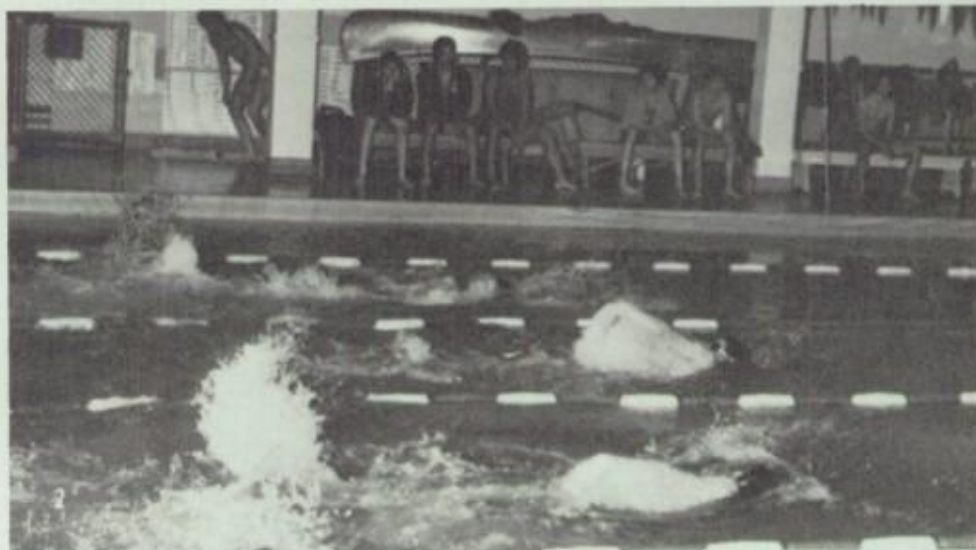

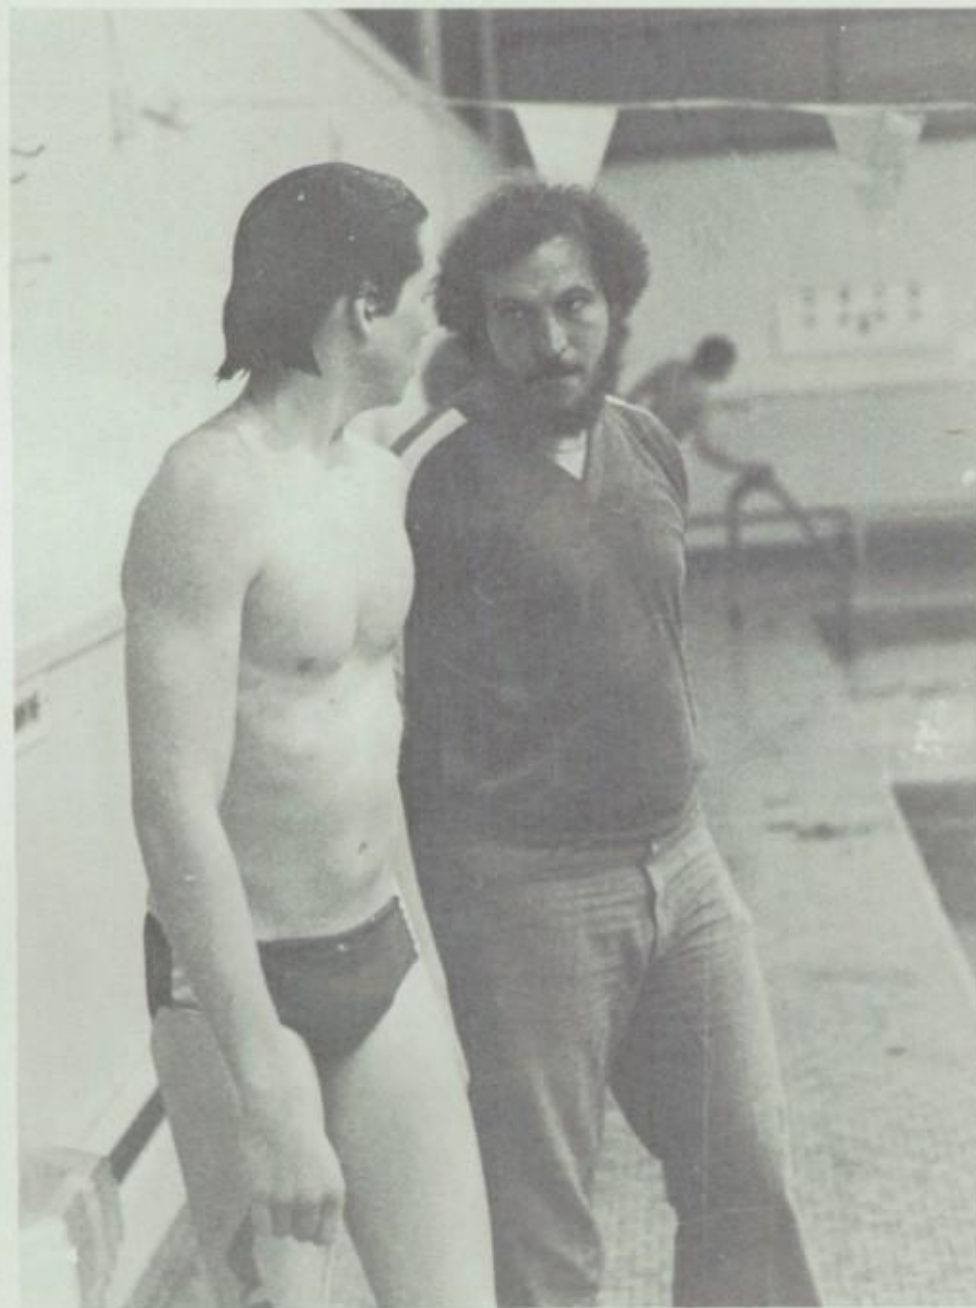

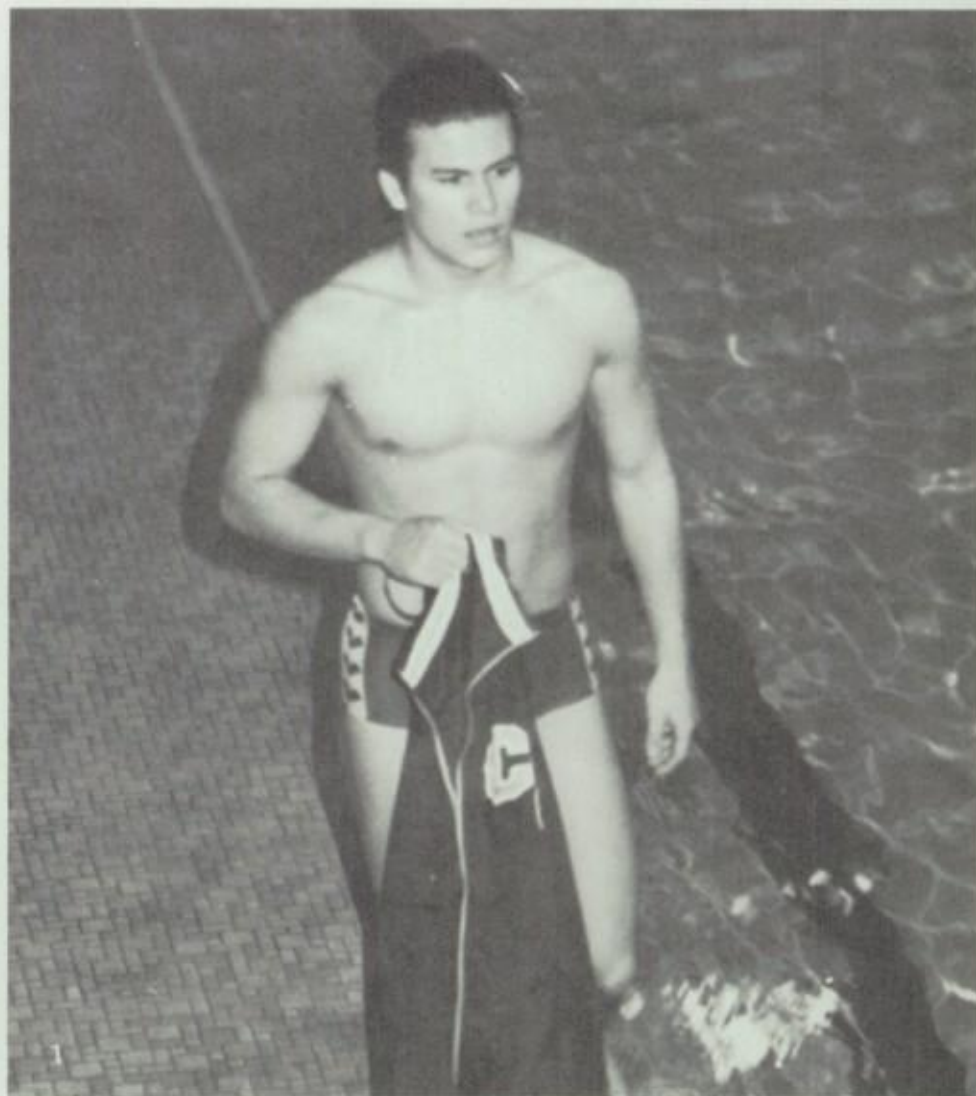

(1) Scott Christenson concentrates on his next move. (2) Dave Fryberg gets ready to take down his opponent. (3) Matt Landers takes control over his opponent.

The competition was tough for the swimmers this season, but the guys managed to defeat Fort Vancouver a close 87 to 84 making their league standings 1 and 5. Their season was long and hard but they gave it their all. Head coach Tim Hegedus saw Joe Gasper to state swimming the 100 breast-stroke and placing 18 in state.

Although they did not finish the season too high, the boys learned that good sportsmanship and team spirit is a big part of both winning and losing. There were fifteen swimmers and each received a letter along with Team Captain; Joe Gasper, Most Improved; Kris Kondor, Most Inspirational; Mark Curtis, and Most Dedicated; Dean Moothart.

(1) Sophomore Kris Kondor shows the pain of a hard workout. (2) Jimmy Hayden takes the lead in the 100 backstroke. (3) Kris Kondor gets off the blocks with a good back start. (4) Coach Tim Hegedus gives Gary Bristow a pep talk before the meet.

During their second year of coaching under Mrs. Debbie Jones, the girl gymnasts placed a very respectable third in district competition and third in regionals. Under their team captain junior Lori Laws, the girls had a very successful season, winning four out of seven meets.

Kathleen Olson won two awards, one for being the most improved and the other for the hardest worker and goal setter. Chosen as the most inspirational teammate was Robin Starr and as best optionals was Stacey Ramsey.

(1) Showing her style and precision, Lorri Harvey performs on the beam. (2) Gymnastic coach for two years, Debbie Jones enjoys athletic activities. (3) Stacey Ramsey takes a break on the bars.

Golf

With 16 golfers on the team, Columbia River placed 11th out of 20 teams in the Benson Invitational. Five of the golfers went on to district with scores of: Jeff Gagliardi - 85, Todd Wyche - 90, Jeff Wooding - 88. Junior Jeff Gagliardi was voted the overall outstanding golfer and Junior Todd Wyche was voted the most improved golfer.

Chieftain territory is known far and wide for its tremendous enthusiasm and pride in Columbia River High.

When one hears the words, Chieftain Territory, they think of strength, pride and a spirit that has always and will always live on for years to come. We are all proud to be called the Chieftains. Our territory is worshipped by every sophomore that comes for his or her first day of school to every senior who proudly walks across it for the last time to receive his or her diploma.

Our school is looked upon by others as a talented leader in athletics, academics and music among worthy opponents. That competition is what brings out the pride—just as the tribe of Chief Kicking Bear was known for pride—to carry the title of “Chieftain”.

This school year successfully produced inspirational rallies and mascots. The summer of 1979 found both the purple and gold varsity rallies being voted most spirited with a first place, and the gold varsity rally earned second place. The girls had numerous car washes and a garage sale to earn their way to camp.

Whether the teams won or lost, both the varsity and JV rallies and the two mascots did their part to keep spirits high. Throughout the campus, Chieftains were sure to see posters and signs the girls had left behind as sports reminders.

"I feel it was a good opportunity and experience for all of us," concluded Patti Cummins, the football varsity rally captain.

(1) Senior Launi Deckert became homecoming queen during her first year on the varsity football rally. (2) Leslie Butterfield was the only junior on the squad. (3) Senior Carla Kendall, selected Miss Hazel Dell for 1980, was the only second-year member of the varsity purple rally. (4) Senior Patti Cummins was the captain of the varsity football rally. (5) Senior Melanie Cobb moved up from her JV position of 1979. (6) Senior Angie McCall also held a JV position before joining the varsity purple rally.

Kicking Bird

The totem pole, teachers, lunchroom food, a smile, and school spirit all have something in common—they all either go unnoticed or unappreciated.

Probably a very small percentage of people even know Columbia River has a totem pole, and even fewer notice it in front of the school. Stop sometime to look at it; then you can see all the hard work and many hours that must have gone into its creation.

The totem pole is just another of the many signs of Columbia River Chieftain spirit that will always remain at our school—noticed or unnoticed—just as Kicking Bird will always be a symbol of peace among the Kiowas.
